DIANA BREAKS THROUGH LINE

One Russian Cruiser Succeeds in Reaching Vladivostok.

NOVIK IS FOLLOWING

Admiral Togo, in Report to Admiralty, Declares He Sank the Pallada.

MAY CHANGE BALTIC PLANS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Aug. 16.—A dispatch to a news agency from St. Petersburg, says a naval officer has telegraphed his family that the cruiser Diana, of the Port Arthur squadron, has arrived at Vladivostok. The Yokohama correspondent of the Daily Mail says the cruiser Novik of the Port Arthur squadron has been sighted off the strait of Van Dieman, steering for Vladivostok.

CHEFOO, Aug. 16.—Today's sortie of the Russian warships from Port Arthur is regarded as a confirmation of previous reports that the Japanese have occupied an important land position, the fire from which compelled the Russian vessels to leave the harbor. It is not certain that they returned to their former anchorage after the sortie.

TOKYO, Aug. 16.—It seems certain that the Russian protected cruiser Pallada was torpedoed and sunk during the naval battle of August 10. She failed to return to Port Arthur and has not been reported since Admiral Togo's fleet departed on various missions the night of August 10.

Admiral Togo, in reporting to the admiralty, says it appears certain that the Pallada was sunk. It was thought at first that the Pallada escaped southward with the Novik and Askold, and the admiralty believed she was concealed in the vicinity of the Yangtze river. Whatever her fate it soon will be determined. If she is afloat she will be speedily reported and if destroyed it is probable that some of her wreckage will be found.

May Alter Baltic Plans.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 17.—Nothing has been received from Russian sources regarding the report from Chefoo of a sortie of the Port Arthur warships today. The report may refer to the cruiser Bayan and the gunboats and torpedo boat destroyers left in the harbor, and one or two of Admiral Withoft's ships which were forced to limp back to port after the fight of August 10.

The opinion is growing that the heavy losses sustained by the Port Arthur fleet may completely alter the plans regarding the Baltic squadron, a division of which is cruising in the gulf ready to sail. Vice Admiral Rojestvensky, commander of the Baltic fleet, with his staff went on board the battleship Suvaroff in the roadstead of Cronstadt, Sunday. Admiral Biruleff signaled him a farewell message, expressing confidence and wishing him good luck.

Russia has been officially informed of the lowering of the flags over the battleship Czarevitch and the two destroyers at Tsing-Tau and acquiesces with Germany's position that the ships must remain there until the end of the war. While ordinary ship repairs may be allowed by Germany within the harbor, no renewal or repair of their armament or guns will be permitted.

German Policy Is Firm.

TSING-TAU, Aug. 16.—A Japanese destroyer entered the harbor a short time ago, having on board the Japanese vice admiral, Dewo, and his staff, for the purpose of calling on the governor of Kai-Chou. At the governor's mansion Gov. Truppel assured the Japanese admiral that all the Russian ships were dismantled; that their guns had been disabled and their ammunition removed. The admiral then departed and as the Japanese destroyer left the harbor she was saluted by the German warships.

The Japanese officers assured the correspondent of the Associated Press that the Germans had promised that the Chefoo incident would not be repeated at Tsing-Tau. The Germans have notified the Japanese that they will fire on any ship entering the harbor at night without lights.

Askold Must Disarm.

EASY VICTORY FOR ROOSEVELT

Republicans Go Into the Campaign With Extreme Confidence.

FORECAST IS GIVEN

Cabinet Member Places Electoral Vote at 264 Without the Doubtful States.

FIGHTING GROUND IN EAST

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.

President Roosevelt's close friends and his official family have a strong and abiding faith in the outcome of the election this fall. The air of supreme confidence that the president shows to all his visitors is fully shared by the members of his cabinet and by the leaders of the party. They are going into the fight with the most valuable asset they could possibly have—confidence in a Republican victory.

A table of the electoral votes was submitted to a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet today with the request that he revise it according to his own ideas. The request was willingly complied with, the only stipulation being that his name was not to be used in connection with it. He had just returned from a meeting of the cabinet, where the political situation had been under discussion, so that it is fair to presume that his opinions substantially represented the opinion of the administration as to the probable results.

Over 50 to the Good.

He made changes in the Roosevelt, Parker and doubtful columns, and when he had finished there were a total of 264 votes for Roosevelt, 159 for Parker and 53 doubtful. Connecticut, New Jersey, Rhode Island and West Virginia he transferred from the doubtful column to the Roosevelt column. Colorado he took away from the Roosevelt column and classed it among the doubtful. Delaware he also took from Parker and placed it among the doubtful votes. When he had finished the table stood thus:

ROOSEVELT.
Maine	6	California	10
New Hampshire	4	Idaho	3
Vermont	4	Illinois	27
Massachusetts	16	Indiana	15
Minnesota	11	Michigan	14
Iowa	13	Ohio	23
North Dakota	4	Pennsylvania	34
South Dakota	4	Wisconsin	13
Nebraska	8	Connecticut	7
Kansas	10	West Virginia	7
Wyoming	3	New Jersey	12
Utah	3	Rhode Island	4
Washington	5
Oregon	4	Total	264
PARKER.
Virginia	12	Louisiana	9
North Carolina	12	Texas	18
South Carolina	9	Arkansas	9
Tennessee	12	Missouri	18
Georgia	13	Kentucky	13
Florida	5	Maryland	8
Alabama	11
Mississippi	10	Total	159
DOUBTFUL.
New York	39	Delaware	3
Nevada	3
Montana	3	Total	53
Colorado	5

Reflects the President's Opinion.

This table shows that President Roosevelt will be elected by a majority of 52 electoral votes, even should the Democrats carry all of the states here classed as doubtful. It has been claimed by leading Republicans from the first that Roosevelt can lose New York and still win, though it is admitted that the election usually goes as does the Empire state. However, the above table may be taken as representing the views of the administration on the outcome of the campaign. Prepared as it was by a member of the president's cabinet, it may be taken that this alignment of the electoral vote is what is expected by President Roosevelt and his advisers. In explanation of the table, the cabinet member who prepared it said:

"The Democrats have been claiming Connecticut, New Jersey, Rhode Island and West Virginia, but there is not the slightest ground for such claims. They are all normal Republican states, and until some reason has been shown for classing them as doubtful, I see no excuse for not putting them in the Republican column. I am certain that they will all go for Roosevelt.

Illinois Strongly Republican.

"The talk of Illinois or Wisconsin going Democratic also lacks the basis of fact. Republican leaders of Illinois claim the

IDAHO'S MORMON FORCES ROUTED

Former United States Senator Henry Heitfeld Is Nominated for Governor.

PLEDGED TO KILL POLYGAMY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEWISTON, IDAHO, Aug. 16.—Henry Heitfeld of Lewiston, former United States senator, was nominated for governor by acclamation by the Democratic state convention tonight. The nomination was seconded by delegates from the principal Mormon counties.

The Dubois-Heitfeld forces regained control of the convention today, routing the Mormon forces after a fierce fight. Last night the anti-Dubois forces succeeded in striking the anti-Mormon plank out of the platform by a vote of 153 to 131. Adjournment was then taken. During the recess the Idaho county delegation was rounded up and swung into line for Dubois.

When the convention assembled today, the following resolution was presented and carried through by the Dubois forces, led by the senator himself.

"We demand the extermination of polygamy and unlawful cohabitation within the borders of Idaho, and the complete separation of church and state in political affairs. We pledge the Democratic party to enact such legislation as will eventually suppress this evil."

J. Q. McDuffey of Lemhi county, appears to lead for congress, though Harry L. Day is also discussed.

ALLEGED KIDNAPER GAVE BATTLE TO THE POLICE

Arrest Made in New York Which Is Thought Important in the Mannino Case.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Salvadore Altadonna, alleged go-between for the principals in the kidnaping of Tony Mannino, was lodged in the Amity street police station tonight, after a desperate fight.

This capture, the detectives declare, is of the utmost importance, since the prisoner is believed to have been in communication with Vito Laducca within the past 24 hours and knows just where the leader of the gang and the kidnaped boy are located.

He was present at the conference in Laducca's house at which the kidnaping was arranged, it is declared, and when arrested tonight it is believed that he was carrying a message from Laducca to his wife.

PEABODY GETS ONE DOLLAR TO START CAMPAIGN FUND

ESOPUS, Aug. 16.—George Foster Peabody, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, arrived this afternoon from Lake George. He said the first campaign contribution he received as treasurer was from an Episcopal clergyman over 80 years old. The clergyman wrote that while he did not know whether he would live to vote for Parker and Davis, he wanted to send a $1 bill, all he could afford, with the hope that the campaign fund would be made up of the dollars of a million voters, rather than the larger gifts of rich men.

Held Services Over Fragments of Bodies

CHEFOO, Aug. 16.—While the disabled Russian flagship Czarevitch was making for Tsing-Tau, funeral services were held, in many cases over heads, arms and legs. One sailor whose hand was severed by a fragment of shell became crazed by pain and the horror of blood about him. He approached the captain, held out the severed member in his remaining hand, and requested that prayer be said over it.

MAYOR'S EFFORTS WERE USELESS

Both Sides in Meat Strike Claim Victory and Desire No Conference.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES MADE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison's effort to bring the packers and strike officials together in a peace conference was unsuccessful today.

"We will stick until the snow flies," declared President Donnelly this afternoon, as he left the office of the mayor. "We have the packers beaten now, but we can stand out for months if necessary to secure a fair settlement."

The packers just as vigorously declare that the strike is practically ended, and that no compact of any kind will be made with the strikers.

In the conference between the labor officials and the mayor today, the former made sensational charges against the packers. They declared that every law that stood in the way of the packers was violated with impunity; that eight men had been killed by the bursting of an ammonia pipe in the refrigerating plant of Armour & Co., and that the bodies had been disposed of without notifying the coroner; that prize fights and gambling were carried on in the stock yards under police protection.

"Every moral law is being violated," declared President Donnelly, "as well as the city and state laws. Go out to Libby, McNeil & Libby's plant any night and see for yourself. Watch the prize fights and the gambling games. Policemen guard the fighting ring and prevent the crowds from interfering with the fighters."

It was Organizer Fitzpatrick who charged that eight strike breakers had been fatally suffocated by the bursting of an ammonia pipe and that their bodies had been spirited away and buried.

"How were the bodies disposed of without the knowledge of the coroner?" inquired the mayor.

"The packers do not permit the laws to interfere in such cases," replied Fitzpatrick. "The bodies were dragged out, placed in cinder wagons and hauled away. We can produce six witnesses to the affair."

The mayor did not intimate to the union officials what action he would take on the charges, but it is understood that he has asked the packers for an explanation.

LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE READ TO THE CABINET

Roosevelt's Document Is Described as Bristling With Many Good Points.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—President Roosevelt read his letter of acceptance to the cabinet today. It is described as rather long, quite readable and bristling with good points. Although it has been all written, the president works on it, constantly revising, interpolating and adding to it. By September 15, which is the date tentatively set for its delivery to Speaker Cannon, chairman of the notification committee, it is expected to stand forth a well-polished and statesmanlike document.

The letter covers practically the same points to which the president devoted his speech of acceptance, but it is stated that the president handles these issues in quite another manner, which is somewhat original and calculated to make a most favorable impression.

By the president's friends it is said that he is daily receiving promises of support from men who have hitherto followed the fortunes of the Democratic party. The president is naturally much gratified by this and not a little encouraged.

Austrian Emperor Visits British King.

MARIENBAD, BOHEMIA, Aug. 16.—Emperor Francis Joseph arrived here today from Vienna to visit King Edward. The latter awaited the emperor at the railroad station. The monarchs greeted each other with marked cordiality. Later they exchanged formal visits.

STEEL PRICES WILL BE CUT

Wall Street Expects War to Be Inaugurated Today.

TO MEET REPUBLIC

United States Steel Corporation Directors Discuss the Reduction in Billets.

NEW SCHEDULE IS PROMISED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Aug. 16.

According to Wall street advices general cuts will be made in the price of iron and steel goods tomorrow. The reports were not denied in representative quarters. One director of the United States Steel Corporation said that no one knew "where it would end."

That important events were under consideration at the weekly meeting of the finance committee of the United States Steel Corporation was demonstrated by the presence of G. W. Perkins, who came down from the White mountains to attend the session. P. A. B. Widener came over from Philadelphia.

The situation and the effects of the Republic Iron and Steel Company's action in cutting the price of billets was canvassed. It was significant that neither Mr. Widener nor any of the directors present at the meeting would express any opinion as to the policy which was to be adopted.

Buyers Want Republic Rates.

It was admitted the situation had been demoralized by the Republic Iron and Steel Company's action and that buyers throughout the country were refusing to accept prices other than the equivalent of those which the Pittsburgh Steel Company obtained.

This assertion was made today to The Gazette correspondent by an important interest in the trade:

"No cuts were made in steel and iron prices today, but I cannot say what will happen. The situation is unfortunate and no one knows where it will end. I cannot tell you what occurred at the meeting today. The best thing for you to do is to watch the customer and learn what he is paying for his goods."

It was inferred that there will be an open market, beginning tomorrow, in steel and iron. While this inference was regarded as too extreme in certain quarters, there was undoubtedly an air of determination about the finance committeemen who were seen in reference to the matter.

In Wall street the reports were very persistent that a new and reduced schedule of prices would be announced within a day or two. The heaviness of United States Steel was suggestive of some truth in these reports.

Out After All Business.

It was authoritatively stated, however, that no schedule of prices would be announced, but that business would be booked at the best prices obtainable without regard to the association's prices.

Heretofore, prices of plates, beams, bars, billets, etc., have been fairly well maintained through the aid of pool agreements to which all the large manufacturers subscribed. Lately it was noticed that concessions were given in the shape of additional work. For example, a customer orders a quantity of tees and angles for construction purposes. The company obtaining the contract would charge the full price for the structural material, but would drill holes and add some paraphernalia which in the end reduced the price to the consumer. It is now believed that the word has gone forth to "get" business and book it without regard to the association price.

Mr. Perkins, chairman of the finance committee, left town shortly after the conference on his yacht. Mr. Widener refused to discuss the meeting.

ALEXANDER DODDS.

NOT CUTTING PRICE.

B. F. Jones Denies Billet Report Concerning Big Local Steel Company.

The report was circulated yesterday that the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, the big local independent, had cut prices below the billet association's price on billets, and that there was much more trouble as the result.

This report was positively denied last evening by B. F. Jones, president of the company. "The Jones & Laughlin Company is not cutting billet prices," he said. "The company's sales of billets are small in any event, as it consumes almost its entire product in its own finishing mills."

VICTIMS TAKEN FROM MILITIA

Georgia Mob Overpowers Soldiers and Burns Two Negroes at Stake.

GUNS NOT LOADED

When the Crowd Discovers This It Has the Troops at Its Mercy.

BLACKS HAD SLAIN A FAMILY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

STATESBORO, GA., Aug. 16.—With clothing saturated with kerosene, writhing and twisting in their agony, screaming to heaven for the mercy that the mob would not show, Paul Reed and Will Cato, negroes, two of the principals in the murder and burning of Henry Hodges and wife and three of their children, six miles from Statesboro, three weeks ago, were burned at the stake today.

This afternoon at 1:21 o'clock a determined mob charged on the court house, overpowered the military guard, secured Cato and Reed, who had been found guilty after a legal trial and sentenced to be hanged, September 9, took them two miles from Statesboro and there burned them alive.

The climax came quickly and unexpectedly. The forenoon had passed quietly, the trial of Paul Reed, the ringleader in the murder, being concluded and a verdict of guilty rendered. The crowd assembled about the court house was not as large as yesterday, nor was it so threatening. In the trial of Reed little delay had been caused, and on its conclusion the prisoners, as before, were hustled into the witness room where a strong guard of military was mounted over them.

Resisted Mob With Bayonets.

In the corridors the agitation began. The spectators left the court room and from the lawn outside many entered the hallways. Shortly before 1 o'clock the crowd was addressed by a tall man who seemed to inflame it greatly. He called on those about him to follow him. Then Capt. Hitch of the Oglethorpe light infantry, who was in command of the forces, realized that the situation was desperate. He posted guards on each of the stairways that led to the floor above, where the prisoners were confined. With fixed bayonets but unloaded rifles, the guards stood. The mob surged toward them, but were repulsed several times. The determined effort was yet to be made.

At the rear stairway the gravest danger threatened. Prominent men, among them the Rev. Mr. Hodges, brother of the murdered man, sprang to the front to address the crowd. They begged them to disperse. Sheriff Kendrick was among these. He cautioned the crowd against violence and pleaded with them to leave.

"I am your friend," he said. "I beg you to do nothing that will reflect on us as well as on the community. Disperse and let the law take its course. We need these men. There are others to be brought to justice, and only from the information to be gained from Cato and Reed can we ascertain the right ones. I can almost promise you that when the case is finally sifted there will be five parties who are equally guilty."

Guards Are Overpowered.

"We know you are our friend, Kendrick," some one shouted, "but promise us that you will let these men stay in Statesboro jail and not be taken back to Savannah. Then we will disperse; not till then."

There was some shouting and cheering and Kendrick could not reply.

"Promise us that," they shouted. "You shall not take them away from Statesboro."

A commotion at the front drew the crowd there. This was but temporary. Presently they were back at the rear and some 25 men crowded around the guards. Before they could be prevented they had caught two of the guards, wrested their weapons from them and thrown open the breech blocks. The weapons were empty. That was what the crowd wanted to ascertain. The troops had been given orders not to load their rifles. The captured soldiers were held prisoners. The same policy was followed with others of the soldiers. Man after man, caught and isolated, was relieved of his rifle after a struggle.

At the front a member of the mob crept along the wall until he got close to the guards. He threw himself upon them. In the breach thus formed, his companions threw themselves. Two hundred wildly cheering men followed him and soon the soldiers, though they fought desperately and inflicted bayonet wounds upon some of their assailants, were overpowered.

SURRENDER OF PORT ARTHUR DEMANDED BY JAPANESE

Most Desperate Fighting of the War Is Now in Progress There—Japanese Advise the Surrender of the Citadel.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

TOKYO, Aug. 17.—The emperor's offer to release the non-combatants at Port Arthur, coupled with a demand for the surrender of the fortress, was delivered yesterday. An answer is expected today.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—A dispatch to the Central News from Tokyo says that a big oil warehouse at Port Arthur is blazing furiously and that the position of the besieged is such that the Japanese are urging them to surrender.

CHEFOO, Aug. 16.—The most desperate fighting of the war is now in progress at Port Arthur, according to reports which reach here from the Shan-Tung peninsula. The Japanese guns have rained a constant stream of shell on Port Arthur and have inflicted enormous damage. The Russian warships which escaped destruction in last week's battle have been forced by the Japanese fire from the inner harbor after several of them had received additional damage, and are at the mouth of the channel almost in the same position they were when the first attack was made on them last February.

The Japanese infantry have effected a lodgment in the inner line of the Russian defenses. The Russian infantry resisted desperately and were compelled to retire at the bayonet's point by an overwhelming force. The main attention of Marshal Oyama, who is in command of the Japanese investing force, is directed to the eastern defenses, and it is there the breach which probably marks the beginning of the end was made.

The Japanese artillery stationed on Takushau mountain did the most serious damage to the Russian defenses, and it was almost directly opposite this position that the Russian line was broken. It is also reported that the Japanese are massing a heavy column on the west with the apparent object of attacking the position on Etse hill, which is only two miles from the center of Port Arthur.

SHIP MAGNETIZED BY CLOUD OF PHOSPHORIC APPEARANCE

Mass of Glowing Fire Envelops Vessel—Even Iron Chairs Cling to Deck and Chains and Spikes Are Charged.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1904, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Aug. 16.—The American liner Westernland, from Philadelphia, which arrived at Queenstown this evening, brought intelligence of a strange phenomenon experienced by the British steamship Mohican in the Atlantic on the 1st inst., while on a voyage to Philadelphia. A cloud of phosphoric appearance enveloped the vessel, magnetizing everything on board.

Capt. Urquhart says the ship's crew had a fiery coating. When the sailors saw it they rushed at the needle which they found was revolving like an electric fan. The captain ordered several of the crew to move some iron chairs lying on deck, but were unable to do so, although the chairs did not weigh more than 75 pounds each.

Everything was magnetized, and chains, bolts, spikes and bars adhered to the decks, as if they had been riveted. The cloud was so dense that it was impossible for the vessel to proceed. The captain could not see beyond the decks, and everything appeared to be a mass of glowing fire.

Suddenly the cloud lifted, the phosphorescence on the ship began to fade and in a few minutes the cloud passed away, and could be seen moving over the sea.

guards never surrendered. He fought his way free, fought through his captors and out upon the lawn. A weapon was raised to strike him. "Shame!" shouted the crowd, and struck down the man who had raised his weapon. Then they threw themselves upon the boy and overpowered him.

The small guard about the prisoners withdrew into the room and closed the door. The mob crashed against it, bursting it as though it were an egg shell. The prisoners were at their mercy, all resistance having been beaten down. Cato, Reed, Handy Bell and the other prisoners cowered before the crowd. They dragged Cato and Reed out, releasing Bell into the hands of the few soldiers left there as soon as they learned that he was not Reed, for whom they had mistaken him.

Seize Their Victims.

Reed was taken down one stairway with a rope about his neck and Cato down the other, both pleading for their lives.

By this time, the crowd numbered 500 persons. The doomed men were dragged, the crowd shouting and cheering, along the roadway leading to the Hodge homestead, where the five members of the family had been murdered and burned. That was their destination.

The heat was so intense that the crowd wearied when two miles of the six-mile route had been traversed. Going 75 yards from the road the crowd halted. The two negroes were made to seat themselves on a log. They were told that they had but a short time to live and that they should confess.

Reed was the first to speak. He confessed, implicating other negroes, as he had in the court room. He denied, however, that he had taken an active part in the murder.

Cato answered incoherently. The crowd moved across a field to a strip of woodland. Several men climbed to branches and called for ropes.

"Burn Them!" Yells Crowd.

"Burn them!" Burn them!" shouted the crowd.

Cato begged to be shot or hanged, saying he was innocent, that he had had no part in the crime. Some of the more humane wanted to grant his request, but they were in the minority. The rest wanted to visit the same death upon the negroes that they had visited upon the Hodges family.

A member of the mob made a speech recounting the horrors of the crime. This inflamed the crowd to the burning pitch. To a large stump 12 feet high, the men were chained with their faces to the mob. Then a wagon load of pine wood was piled around the men and 10 gallons of kerosene was thrown over them.

A photographer was present, and the crowd was cleared back that he might get several views of the men bound to the stake and ready for the burning. Then followed an awful scene.

Frenzied Mob Cheers.

Frenzied cheers rent the air as men, almost crazed with the hatred of the men being punished, saw the flames drinking up the lifeblood. Just as the match was applied to the pyre one of those in front asked Reed if he wanted to tell the truth before he died.

"Yes, sir; I killed Mr. and Mrs. Hodges," he replied.

"Who killed the children?" he was asked.

"Handy Bill," came the response, as the flames leaped upwards, and further questioning was impossible in the wild tumult.

Late this afternoon, after the last member of the mob had left the scene, hundreds of citizens who in no wise had participated in the affair, repaired to the scene, and many remained until long after nightfall, picking up whatever souvenirs they could find. Conspicuous among the crowds were the number of small boys in knee pants.

Deputy Sheriffs in League.

ATLANTA, GA., Aug. 16.—A special to the Constitution from Savannah, says: "It has developed here upon the return of the troops from Statesboro, that the deputy sheriffs were in league with the lynchers. They aided them in overpowering the soldiers.

"Capt. Robert H. Hitch, commanding the troops, was seized by a stalwart deputy and hustled down the stairs and out on the lawn, where a crowd massed about him. His revolver and sword were taken away from him. When he had fought his way back upstairs the prisoners were gone.

"Deputies had been accustomed to pass freely among the military and therefore the soldiers were not suspicious. Consequently, when the deputies seized them they were at the mercy of the mob. Deputies, it is said, unlocked the door in which the guard finally stood with the prisoners. The deputies pointed out Reed and Cato."

More than 100 bullets were fired into his body. The coroner issued the stereotyped verdict: "Came to death by pistol shots inflicted by unknown parties." The negro, it is said, entered the house of J. P. Hollis and attacked Mrs. Hollis.

YOUNG SWIMMER DROWNS DESPITE FRIENDS' HELP

William Pritchard Perishes While a Crowd Looks On—Man Found on Locomotive Pilot Dies of Injuries.

William Pritchard, aged 19, was drowned yesterday in the Monongahela river. He leaves a widow and child, having been married when he was only 18. He lived at 106 South Fourteenth street and was a son of Matthew Pritchard of 2211 Jane street.

Pritchard went in swimming with several other young men at the foot of South Nineteenth street. He and his companions swam from a raft to the breast of the dam of lock No. 1, and in swimming back Pritchard gave out. A crowd on the bank shouted to Pritchard's friends, and Albert Snoop swam back to his assistance, and clutching his arm tried to help him. Albert Bishop swam to join them and tried to swim under Pritchard to buoy him up, but the drowning man clutched at him and Bishop grew wary. While Snoop and Bishop were watching a chance to save Pritchard, he sank. The accident happened at 3:15 p. m., at at 8 o'clock the body was recovered.

Stalsa Bakovics, a 15-year-old Servian girl, died yesterday at her home, 109 Bell avenue, McKeesport, and because it was reported that no physician had attended her the coroner investigated the case. The girl's mother said the family came to this country four months ago; that the girl became sick on the ship and had been ill ever since. Two doctors attended her until two weeks ago. It is thought the girl had quick consumption.

Vasili Vrados died yesterday at the McKeesport hospital, after a wild ride on the locomotive pilot of the Cumberland express on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. When the train pulled into West Newton Vrados was found on the pilot. His legs were nearly rubbed off by dragging over the ties. He was brought on the train to McKeesport, but did not recover consciousness. No one knows how he was caught on the pilot. His name was learned from papers in his pocket.

Michael Wanjura of Moon Run was yesterday held by a coroner's jury for murder at the inquest into the death of Peter Sadusky. Sadusky was found dead at Wanjura's house on August 5, with Majura's wife lying drunk beside the body. Wanjura was missing, but he was captured the next day. He said he shot Sadusky accidentally.

STRUCK A SNAG.

The Labor Day Committee Not Given Exclusive Use of Schenley Park.

The general committee of the Labor day celebration held a meeting last night in the headquarters of the Union Workmen's Political association, Fourth avenue. Reports were heard from all sub-committees showing that the celebration will be a grand success.

JOHN F. BUSH,
Member of Finance Committee.

The committee of grounds and refreshments reported they had struck a snag. It was stated that Director Bigelow had granted them exclusive privilege of Schenley park for Labor day, and that the committee could have charge of granting concessions for refreshment stands. Since this permission was obtained the committee rented out privileges but yesterday they learned that a caterer had a yearly contract with the city for stands in Schenley park.

DIANA BREAKS THROUGH LINE

sian cruiser Askold were almost absolutely starving when they were brought from the ship to the municipal hospital here. They consumed food ravenously and now they are doing well. The Japanese consul here is demanding of the Chinese authorities that the Askold disarm.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Consul General Goodnow cables the state department from Shanghai today that the Chinese taoti has informed the Russian consul general at Shanghai that the Russian torpedo boats in that port must depart at once or disarm. The consul general replied that both boats were going as soon as they were repaired. The Japanese consul demanded the immediate departure of the boats without waiting for repairs.

JAPAN'S ACT ALIENATES CHINESE SYMPATHY

Russia Lays Before Powers Her Protest Over the Ryeshitelni Incident.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 16.—Japan will be advised by the United States to restore the Ryeshitelni, the Russian destroyer, which was captured in Chefoo harbor, if it is called upon to take part in the exchange of notes between the powers now taking place. A careful consideration of all the circumstances attending the incident has practically convinced the administration officials that the act of the Japanese vessels was at least questionable, if not direct violation of the neutrality of China.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

TIENTSIN, Aug. 16.—The reported violation by Japan of the neutrality of China in the capture of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Ryeshitelni at Chefoo, has resulted in alienating to a great exent, the sympathy of Chinese officials for Japan. This applies even to officials connected with the pro-Japanese party.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Ambassador Benkendorff, carrying out the instructions of Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, presented this morning to Foreign Secretary Lawnsdowne an official protest from his government against the "flagrant violation of international law and neutrality" by Japanese torpedo boat destroyers at Chefoo. The protest is in the nature of a circular to all the powers and recites the facts as already published.

The Pekin correspondent of the Times in a dispatch dated August 15 says the note of the Russian government demands that China shall regain possession of the Ryeshitelni, and degrade Admiral Sah, commanding at Chefoo.

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Russia's protest against the Japanese violation of Chinese neutrality at Chefoo has been transmitted to the mikado's government by the French legation at Tokyo acting purely as the intermediary of Russia, which has not made any representations to France on the subject. The latter, as a neutral power, is not directly concerned, and has no reason for intervening in any manner at the present time. The impression in well-informed circles here is that the whole question is not urgent, and that it will be solved diplomatically.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 16.—In spite of the tone of the press Russia does not desire and does not expect the powers to take action in regard to the Ryeshitelni incident. The government has simply placed the facts before Japan and China and is now awaiting their action. If Russia's representations are ignored and nothing further is done, Russia will feel herself free to take such steps as she may be able to in the way of retaliation.

Britain Demands Indemnity.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph asserts that the British note to Russia protesting against the treatment of neutral ships, also demands compensation for losses by the seizure and confiscation of cargoes and the sinking of steamers. The American ambassador at the same time, the correspondent says, presented an energetic note protesting against the treating of such merchandise as cables, electric light plants, lift machinery, etc., as contraband.

Japanese Battleship Sunk.

CHEFOO, Aug. 16.—A telegram just received from Tsing Tau says that the officers of the Russian battleship Czarevitch insist that a Japanese battleship sank within full view during the battle on the night of August 10.

Gen. Stackelberg in Disgrace.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says Emperor Nicholas has decided to recall Gen. Stackelberg, who was defeated by the Japanese at Vafangow, Telissu, June 14 and 15, in his attempt to relieve Port Arthur.

The defendants will be arrested today and the hearings will take place tomorrow. Out of the first 15, all but two paid the maximum fine of $25 and costs, or a total of $30.50.

CRANK WAS ARRESTED AT WHITE HOUSE DOOR

Wanted to See the President to Get Protection from Alleged Enemies.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Hasty action on the part of the secret service men at the White House was necessitated this afternoon, when a well-dressed and elderly man giving his name as Dr. John H. Baird of Greenville, Tex., walked hurriedly up to the door, pushed past the guard and announced that he must see the president at once. It was imperative, he said, that he should get the protection of the president from enemies he had down south.

Dr. Baird has written several letters to the president, telling him that he was coming. He admitted that his affairs were not of particular importance, but said that he had heard that Mr. Roosevelt had saved little kittens from perishing, and felt confident that such a man would help him in his trouble.

The search of the man conducted by the police revealed nothing but a pocket knife and some unintelligible papers. As he was regarded as mentally unsound, he was kept under arrest, and if not consigned to the insane asylum, will be returned to Greenville, where he says his wife lives. Dr. Baird says that his wife knew he was coming here to see about the publication of a book, but did not know that he was going to try and see the president.

HIBERNIANS' CONVENTION IN SESSION AT ERIE

Proceedings Open With Mass—Welcoming Speeches and Responses—Pittsburgher Urged to Run for Treasurer.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ERIE, PA., Aug. 16.—St. Peter's cathedral was the scene of mass, preparatory to the opening of the first session of the forty-fourth convention of the Pennsylvania Ancient Order of Hibernians, this morning. Six hundred delegates, including the ladies, marched to the church in a body at 8 o'clock. Rev. Father J. J. Donnellen, rector of the cathedral, celebrated mass and Rev. Father Lawrence J. McBride of Emlenton delivered the sermon, which was a review of the work of the order in the uplifting of Ireland and Irishmen in this country. Miss Gertrude Sechrist, Mrs. W. Schleyeher, E. B. Wuenschel and A. W. Witman were the soloists. County President Thomas F. Sullivan called the convention to order at 10 o'clock. Mayor William Hardwick delivered the address of welcome and State President Patrick Donahue the response. Mrs. Anna C. Malia replied for the ladies. The Rev. Father Fielding also spoke.

Little business was done, except receive the credentials and prepare for lively times tomorrow, when several offices will be contested. John M. Kelly of Pittsburgh, who heads a delegation of nearly 100 Hibernians and ladies, is being urged to run for state treasurer against Lawrence Horan of Allegheny and John Irwin of Fayette. Hon. C. C. Donovan of Scranton seems to lead for the state presidency. J. L. Moore of Wilkesbarre and Joseph McLaughlin of Philadelphia are also seeking the presidential office. Thomas F. Sullivan of this city wants to be vice president. For secretary the candidates are Edward P. Marnon of Williamsport; Dennis Callahan of Greenville; John P. Gibbons of Hudson; Edward J. Ryan of Philadelphia and Thomas Farrell of Schuylkill. Altoona has come to the front for the nineteenth convention. Dubois and Chester are also in the fight. The local committees, headed by Frank D. Lacey, entertained the delegates at a grand banquet in Scott's Music hall tonight.

CARNEGIE WANTS A HOSPITAL.

Board of Trade Has Interested Itself in the Starting of One.

An emergency hospital will soon be located at Carnegie if plans formulated at a meeting of the Carnegie board of trade Monday night are carried out. The following committee was appointed to push the project to completion: B. M. Goldsmith, president of the board of trade; Dr. R. L. Walker, George Faunce, H. M. Bittner and H. M. Harbison. This committee will confer with officials of the Panhandle railroad, the Pittsburgh Coal Company and other corporations employing a large number of men in or near Carnegie. They will also consult with the Chartiers Medical association.

The W. C. T. U. hall in Creek avenue can, it is thought, be obtained as a hospital building. It is a two-story frame structure, and would require remodeling to fit it for hospital purposes.

Strike Breakers Taken to Chicago.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Forty strike breakers were brought over the Mt. Pleasant branch of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad last night and taken to Chicago, where they will take employment in the packing houses.

AN EASY VICTORY FOR ROOSEVELT

Republican ticket will carry that state by 100,000, and all the indications point to the accuracy of this prediction. Nothing has developed there to indicate that there is any disaffection among the Republicans or to warrant any claim that the Democrats have a show to get that state.

"Up in Wisconsin there is talk of the state going for Parker, but those who are familiar with the situation there have no fear of that result. The best judgment is that the factional fight, bitter as it is, will not endanger the success of the Republican ticket, and it is reasonable to claim that Wisconsin will go for Roosevelt by 50,000.

"The conditions in Colorado are well known, and there is no denying that they are such as to warrant placing that state in the doubtful column. We believe we have as good chance to carry it as the Democrats, and possibly a better one, but I believe that at this time it can only be properly classed as doubtful.

"The same estimate applies to Delaware. Possibly the chances in that state are even more favorable for the Republicans, but the political conditions there are so clouded that no one can at this time predict the result with any degree of certainty.

"We all admit that New York is fighting ground and that both parties are justified in making a great effort there. The Republicans expect to carry it, but there is no denying the fact that we will have to fight for it. Judge Parker's speech of acceptance failed to arouse the enthusiasm that it was hoped it would. There is no evidence that the Democrats are making any progress whatever in their campaign, and therefore I cannot see that they have any good ground for claiming New York or any of the other eastern states." L. W. STRAYER.

SENATOR SCOTT PROPOSES PLANS

Trying to Compromise Dispute Between West Virginia District Congressional Aspirants.

TWO NOMINATIONS POSSIBLE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Aug. 16.—The present contest in the Third congressional district between W. S. Edwards and Joseph H. Gaines for the Republican nomination has reached so acute a stage that the Republican national committee and the Republican congressional committee are endeavoring to bring about a settlement and secure the nomination of one candidate who will command the party strength and assure success at the polls.

Senator Nathan B. Scott of the Republican national executive committee, speaking for the two committees in a long-distance telephone communication with ex-Gov. Atkinson today, proposed two methods to be presented to the candidates. The first proposition was that the convention called for Hinton on August 20 be postponed and that Edwards and Gaines agree to a primary election to be held in Kanawha and Fayette, the two largest counties in the district, the candidate receiving a majority of the votes to be declared the nominee. The other proposition was that Mr. Edwards select an umpire and Mr. Gaines one, and these two to select a third man of prominence outside the district, to whom should be submitted the claims of both men, their decision to be final and binding.

Mr. Edwards is understood to have signified his willingness to abide by either decision, but Congressman Gaines had not been communicated with up to a late hour. An effort is being made to secure some understanding before the Hinton convention. Both Edwards and Gaines expect to have a full delegation from the counties of Kanawha, Clay, Fayette and Summers, and there is a strong likelihood now of two conventions and two nominations, unless the differences are adjusted in the meantime.

THOUSANDS AT PICNIC.

Colored People Flocked to New Castle. Two Accidents and Some Faultless Faints Reported.

More than 3,000 colored residents of Allegheny and Pittsburgh returned last night from Cascade park, New Castle, after a day's outing under the auspices of the colored churches of the two cities. With an attendance of nearly 5,000 drawn from all parts of Western Pennsylvania, but two serious accidents are reported. Joseph Williams of Wylie avenue had his right foot cut off below the ankle by a New Castle street car during the afternoon. He was taken to the New Castle hospital. Another man is reported to have jumped off one of the Pennsylvania trains out of Allegheny just before reaching New Castle, with the result of having his foot drawn under the wheels, crushing the toes.

Arrangements had been made with the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad for a special train for 800 passengers to leave at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. At train time 2,150 tickets had been sold, while many were still swarming over the Smithfield street bridge. Three special trains were at once made up to carry the crowd.

A special train was ordered out of Allegheny which was increased to two, aggregating 30 cars. Aside from several faultlessly executed faints, no trouble was experienced in handling the crowds.

Arthur Walker, colored, of Loraine street, Allegheny, was cut about the left arm, face and head during a fight on the picnic grounds and was taken to the Allegheny General hospital. His injuries are not serious. Herbert Cousins, also colored, of 142 Fulton street, Pittsburgh, was bruised by falling off one of the trains en route to Allegheny.

HURT IN A RUNAWAY.

Child Was Probably Fatally Injured and a Woman Seriously Shocked.

In a runaway on the Butler plank road, near Undercliffe, Mrs. J. G. Martin, 50 years old, of No. 602 First street, Allegheny, was seriously injured and Ethel Grebe, a nine-year-old child probably fatally injured. The two, with Miss Martin, a daughter, were driving to Gibsonia, and had halted near Undercliffe to water their horse.

The horse was frightened by Miss Martin leaping to the ground and started at a terrible pace up the road. Smashing into a fence at the side of the road, the rig was overturned and the woman and child thrown to the ground. They were carried unconscious to King's hotel. Mrs. Martin's son was sent for and as soon as he arrived he took his mother and the child, who was still unconscious, to their home in Allegheny. The child's skull was fractured.

Director McIlvain of Allegheny May Cause Battle Over Legality of Ordinance.

$50,000 INVOLVED IN WRANGLE

A test of the legality of the ordinance passed at the July meeting of Allegheny councils, authorizing the director of public works to lay water mains in 34 streets in the city, and instructing him to employ resident labor in the work, is to be made if Director McIlvain adheres to his avowed determination to disregard the measure.

Councilman John R. Henricks of the Eleventh ward, the sponsor for the bill, said last night that he had retained counsel to carry the case into the courts if McIlvain tries to carry out his present plans. Mayor Wyman and Director McIlvain fought the measure in both branches of councils, and since its passage the mayor has refused to sign it on the ground that in his opinion it is in violation of the provisions of the charter ordinance. McIlvain holds the same view and declares he will let the work by contract as the charter provides for all work involving the expenditure of more than $250.

The ordinance places upon McIlvain the responsibility of laying the mains and of engaging citizens of Allegheny in the work. Aside from the question of its legality, he declares that unjust discrimination must be resorted to in engaging labor and that the city will be a loser by several thousand dollars if the act of councils is obeyed.

"That ordinance was passed by both branches of councils and is entirely legal," said Henricks last night. "I have been informed by Director McIlvain that he will let the work by contract and will have nothing to do with the engaging of resident or other labor on the work. Such action will place him in a position antagonistic to councils and will demand legal action to compel him to carry out the mandate of councils. I see nothing illegal in any part of the measure and have been advised by my attorney that it is in no way contrary to any section of the city charter ordinance.

"If McIlvain attempts to advertise the work or let it by contract I shall ask for an injunction to restrain him and shall have the courts settle the question as to the legality or worthlessness of the ordinance. There are hundreds of good citizens of this city who have been out of work for months, and there is nothing but justice in the measure that places within their reach an opportunity to get work. It was for the benefit of these men that the bill was introduced, and the fact that it passed both branches of councils is good evidence that a large body of intelligent men consider it legal in all its provisions."

The work in question is to be done principally in the Tenth, Eleventh and Fifteenth wards and is to cost between $40,000 and $50,000.

Hamilton and Young Disposed Of.

Chester A. Hamilton was fined $50 yesterday by Magistrate Stewart, with the alternative of serving 30 days in the workhouse, and Earl N. Young was sent back to his home in New York. They are the two young men who were arrested by Detectives Eagan and Aymer at the Hotel Anderson, because of an alleged effort to pass a bogus check. The Cincinnati authorities later asked that Young be held on the charge of being a fugitive from justice, but as they did not send for him he was discharged. Hamilton was punished as a suspicious person.

Goods Were Found on Her.

Elizabeth O'Leary of Stoops Ferry was sentenced to pay $10, or serve 10 days in jail, by Magistrate Stewart yesterday as a suspicious person. Albert Offinger, aged 9 years, caused her arrest on Monday. He is stationed in front of a store in Market street, and saw the woman pick up a man's shirt from a basket in front of the store. The woman was arrested and the shirt was found rolled up under her shawl.

Meeting of Salvation Army Workers.

A special meeting will be held tonight in the barracks of No. 3 corps of the Salvation army, Forty-fourth street, near Butler street. The meeting will be in charge of Maj. Marcussen, division superintendent of the Salvation army industrial work for the district from Pittsburgh to Kansas City, his headquarters being in Chicago. The Swedish Salvation army band will furnish the music.

Typhoid Fever Takes a Spurt.

Typhoid fever took a spurt yesterday, 22 cases being reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health. Eight of these were from the Twenty-second ward, with three each in the Twenty-first, Nineteenth and Twenty-fourth. The other cases were scattered. Four cases of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever were also reported.

School Controllers Assume Contract.

The McKeesport board of school controllers will assume the contract for an annex to the Fifth avenue building. Contractor Daniel Stratton had the contract and was to have had the structure finished by next Monday. It is not nearly completed and there is no material on the ground. The board will likely place the matter in the hands of Architect T. J. Herron, who says he will bet $500 he can finish the building by September 5.

Took Creosote for Cough Medicine.

Mistaking creosote for cough medicine Ollie, the 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hobbs of 521 Sixth avenue, McKeesport drank the liquid and spilled some of it on his face and chest. He was fearfully burned.

BIG MERCHANTS WILL BE THE BEST OF HOSTS

Manager Wardrop of "M. and M." Says All Are Planning to Make Excursion a Success.

"Our visitors are to be well entertained during their stay in Pittsburgh," said Manager James W. Wardrop, of the Merchants and Manufacturers association yesterday, in discussing the forthcoming excursion of out-of-town merchants to Pittsburgh.

"I have word from the Lumber association that that body purposes to give a reception and banquet to the visitors in its line of trade on Tuesday evening at the Hotel Henry. A. J. Logan & Co., the Pittsburgh Dry Goods Company, the Reineke-Wilson Company and others, are giving particular attention to their friends in the Pittsburgh commercial territory in connection with the excursion, and are booming the trip in their trade publications and special circulars.

"We are closing up the final arrangements now and I shall issue in a day or so the final circular of the association on the matter.

"The entire outlook is for an excursion that will rival in interest and in business-getting the July excursion into the business centers of West Virginia.

"Every mail brings indications of the wide extent of the interest felt and we are justified in looking for visitors from a far wider radius than was expected by many at first.

"It appears to me that there was never before so good an opportunity for Pittsburgh's business men to show their hospitality as this one offers and I do not believe that an opportunity could well have been developed better. All are awake and alive to it and ties that bind are going to be formed here next week between the Pittsburgh dealer and his trade in all this section of the country."

Queen Quality, First in Woman's Favor.

Is there a woman in Greater Pittsburg who does not like Queen Quality Shoes? To her we say: Madam, have you seen the Sixty Different Styles?

Have you taken into consideration that there is among them a shoe for every shape foot? Surely, with sixty styles to go and come on, there is one that will exactly meet your ideas.

Today Queen Quality stands at the top of the ladder of shoe success. All over the country women are wearing them. You see them in the large cities, in the towns; you even see them far into the country, where the farming element do their shopping by mail. And wherever you see them you hear the women saying nice things about them.

And they deserve all the good words that may be said of them. No other shoes are so good for the money.

Boots $3.00 a Pair, A Few Numbers $3.50.

Oxfords $2.50 a Pair. A Few Numbers $3.00.

Look how many other lines of shoes are parading the sign, "just as good." As imitation is the sincerest form of flattery, isn't this acknowledgment that Queen Quality shoes are best?

To be sure some shoes look as good as Queen Quality. But are they as good? Do they fit as well? Do they feel as easy? Are the leathers and other materials entering into them of the same high class? Will they give as good service?

Some shoes have one of these qualities, some another, but no shoe embraces them all except Queen Quality. These are the points that have made Queen Quality famous all over the land. Why Queen Quality wearers will increase in numbers. Why others are saying "just as good." And lastly why we are so proud of being the sole agents in Western Pennsylvania.

$1.00 Tourist Vigoreaux Suitings, 60c a Yard.

Here is an answer to the problem how to get a really stylish suit at a very moderate cost. We never made a more timely purchase than in the case of this Tourist Vigoreaux. It came in only yesterday; we had some trouble in securing such very fine material at a price that would enable us to say 60c a yard, but we succeeded.

Such modish colorings as brown, military blue and metal gray. Consider the width, 43 inches, and the saving, 40 cents on every yard, then sit down and figure how very little a dressy suit of this newest dress woolen will cost you.

New Light-Weight Moreens, 30c a Yard.

At the lining counter today women will find a new shipment of light weight moreens. They have a moire finish, are very silky in appearance and are 27 inches wide. We bought them knowing that women would take to these pretty materials for petticoats, but they also will make the nicest of drop skirts.

The colors are navy, tan, brown, gray, white and black.

Timely Suggestions in Dress Trimmings.

Many women like to make their own neckwear, belts and other feminine fixings, yet don't care to go to any great labor in the matter.

Here are some items which are being extensively used as the foundation for such articles, as well as for the trimming of Summer dresses:

Wash Beltings, stitched—white—20c a yard.
Collar Faggotings—in white, and black and white—in how many ways can you use this washable faggoting, madam? 15c and 25c a yard.

Wednesday, August 17, 1904.

The Gazette desires to call the attention of those of its readers who contemplate summer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 12 of this issue.

The Russ, a St. Petersburg newspaper, prints an article that is apparently inspired, saying that Russia will insist upon the right to protection for her damaged warships now at Tsingchau and Shanghai until they are fully repaired and for 24 hours thereafter. Such a demand is likely to result in more friction. The international law in regard to damaged ships being repaired in neutral ports says that they shall only be made seaworthy and their fighting efficiency shall be no greater when they leave a neutral port than when they enter. German officials at Tsingchau were given instructions to that effect from Berlin, and it is difficult to see how Russia expects to win such a contention as she has now begun. Were Germany to permit it, she would in effect become an ally of Russia, and Emperor William is not likely to allow any such thing to come to pass.

It is not surprising that large corporations who have forces employed in what is termed "field work" should decide it necessary to pay their men by check, and thus avoid the danger imposed upon paymasters who were compelled to carry large sums into sparsely settled districts at the risk of their lives. The murder of Contractor Ferguson and the assault upon Paymaster Campbell, which resulted in the fatal shooting of his driver, have served to call particular attention to the dangers attendant upon the transportation of large sums to interior points. Since the county officials are unable to give proper police protection, the companies are taking what they consider the only alternative by paying with checks. This may prove inconvenient to their employes in some localities, but they thoroughly understand the conditions and are expected to accept the situation with good grace.

The police department is taking up a commendable line of work in its crusade against the sale of cocaine and all medicines of which it is an ingredient. The law passed at the last session of the legislature says plainly that such medicines shall not be sold except when prescribed by physicians. This law was aimed at the druggists who were in the habit of selling to confirmed users of the drug, and it should be enforced to the letter. The cocaine habit is one of the most injurious of all the drug habits. It may be very readily developed by the use of preparations which contain a small proportion of the drug, and the aim of the law is to prevent the development of the habit as well as to cure those who have already become addicted to it. The local druggists' association, after the law was passed, voted to obey it to the letter, but from evidence produced by the police it is apparent that there have been violations of this agreement.

Gov. White of West Virginia has given out a very comprehensive statement of the results of the extra session of the legislature of that state, which was called by him to reform the tax laws. His statement makes it plainly evident that the legislature attended strictly to business for the two weeks it was in session. Twenty-four measures were passed, carrying out every reform which the Republican party had promised, and the tax laws of West Virginia are now on a basis equal, if not far better, than those of any other state in the union. At the time the governor called the extra session there was some question in the minds of the Republicans as to whether it would not seriously affect their party's chances at the coming election, but the result has proved the exact opposite. It has shown the people of that state that Republican promises are made to be kept, and will undoubtedly draw many votes to the Republican ticket in November.

Ever since it became known that Mrs. Florence Maybrick was to be released from the British prison there has been considerable discussion of the possibility that this government would refuse to allow her to land in America on the ground that she was an ex-convict. That there should be any such question was ridiculous, and the government officials have promptly settled the matter as soon as the time arrived by orders to the officials at the port of New York to give Mrs. Maybrick every attention that is due an American citizen. The sympathy of the people of the United States have extended to her in her misfortunes, and the belief that she was unfairly convicted, was an assurance that she would be welcomed upon her release if she chose to spend the rest of her days in this country. She is now on the ocean en route to America to look after her financial affairs, which have become badly tangled during her absence, and she will receive every possible consideration upon her arrival.

One at least of the Russian warships seems to have reached Vladivostok, since the commander of the cruiser Diana has reported to his government from that port. It would, indeed, be surprising if this should prove to be the only vessel of the Port Arthur fleet to have made its escape. The character of the maneuvers of the fleet in its attempt to escape made it practically impossible for Admiral Togo to keep watch upon each individual vessel. His attack was largely directed against the Russian battleships, and the cruisers and torpedo boats thus had chances of escape. The feature of the engagement which chiefly impresses naval experts relates to the tactics of the Japanese in scattering floating mines in the path of the Russian fleet. This is an entirely new development in naval warfare and the close observation which it made necessary prevented the use of the conning towers and indirectly caused the death of the brave Russian admiral by requiring him to take an exposed position upon the bridge so as to direct the movements of his fleet.

Municipal Finances.

The condition of affairs disclosed by Controller Larkin's notice to the mayor is just what might have been anticipated from the way in which the appropriation ordinance was made up. The intention of the charter was that it was to be part of a municipal budget in which revenue and expenditure should be fairly estimated and provided for. Instead of that it was a piece of political buncombe done for effect and without any real expectation that actual practice would conform to it. The banks to which the city lends money at 2 per cent are willing to lend it back again at 5 per cent, and this resource was depended upon to obviate any trouble over the matter.

Controller Larkin, however, proposes to hold the city government up to its charter obligations, and he has notified the mayor that at the present rate of expenditure the funds available for current expenses will be exhausted by November 1, three months before the end of the fiscal year covered by the appropriation ordinance. The controller will be entirely correct in refusing to countersign any warrants unless there are appropriations to meet them, so that the municipal administration is likely to find itself in serious difficulties through its mismanagement.

Just at this juncture there comes a reminder of the fact that there is a large source of municipal revenue available which has never been utilized. Another batch of traction ordinances are pending, and the opportunity is presented of securing a percentage of the gross receipts. There is no trouble about getting it. All that is necessary is for councils to be willing to let the public in on the deal. Heretofore the offer to pay public compensation has been death to a franchise application. It will be remembered that the Hall franchise applications were accompanied by an offer of compensation, but this was amended out of the ordinances. The policy of handling this business upon the basis of political favoritism has involved the denial to Pittsburgh of street transportation facilities of which she stands greatly in need. If the city would fix proper terms of compensation and then let into the business capital willing to comply with those terms there would be no trouble whatever in securing additional street car lines for public accommodation and at the same time obtaining a large revenue for the lightening of the public burden.

The Georgia Horror.

Although the first reports to the effect that 15 negroes had been lynched in Bulloch county, Georgia, turned out to be untrue, the presence of troops protecting the jail, yet mob ferocity found vent at the court house and two prisoners on trial were seized, carried off and were burned at the stake. In the encounter some of the military are reported to have been hurt. Ten other prisoners are still in jail under the protection of the troops. The usual excuse of the delay and uncertainty of the law cannot be given in this case as a special term of court had been provided so that the accused should receive speedy trial, and their due punishment in the regular course of justice was assured. The affair was the sheer outcome of mob relish for cruelty.

The crimes with which the prisoners were charged were of a kind likely to throw a community into a panic. It is alleged that an organization was formed among the ignorant negroes of the county for the purpose of murdering and robbing prosperous whites. A negro preacher is said to have been head of this organization, which from its practice of holding its meetings between midnight and dawn was known as "The Before Day Club." A farmer, his wife and their four children were murdered and confessions were made that the murders were the work of this Before Day club. It is stated that some years before a similar organization in an adjoining county was effectually broken up by hanging five of the most prominent members in full view of the populace immediately after their first raid. This affair doubtless acted as an incentive to the people of Bulloch county to make a horrible example of the offenders.

The state authorities feared trouble and took some precautions. Arrangements were made for speedy trial and two companies of state troops were sent to the scene to guard the prisoners. The arrangements made were inadequate and mob murder has been substituted for judicial punishment. It must be admitted that the exposed condition of white families living in the country, scattered among a negro population containing vicious elements, justifies an administration of justice so severe as to instill dread of the law, but mob vengeance is a relapse into barbarism and tends to produce a state of barbarism. It substitutes race war for public justice and tends to perpetuate crime by giving it the appearance of fair retaliation. The southern people are taking the right course by improving the administration of justice so as to make it swift and sure, but they should also insist upon the suppression of the lynching mania. It will not be cured until it is given plentiful doses of hot lead.

Can't Stomach Reform.

When the Democratic convention of Missouri nominated District Attorney Folk of St. Louis for governor the action was hailed as a triumph of reform, but already it appears that this was done with reluctance and that the regular party leaders cannot conceal their dissatisfaction. United States Senator William J. Stone has issued a long statement to the public in which he charges Folk with double-dealing and intimates that he will have to change his course if he desires to secure the support of the party.

The cause of the outburst appears to be an impression that Folk is not loyally championing the election of some of his associates on the ticket. While the convention deferred sufficiently to reform sentiment to nominate Folk, some of the old crowd were put upon the ticket, among them Secretary of State Cook and Attorney General Crow. Suspicions have gotten about that the reform element would refuse to regard the nomination of Folk as sufficient to require them to put up with Cook and Crow, and Senator Stone admits that the party leaders have been putting pressure upon Folk to come out in support of his party associates. Senator Stone declares that Folk promised that he would give out "a clear, definite statement, putting at rest all question as to his absolute loyalty to the party and the ticket." He has not done this, and now Senator Stone goes further and charges that before the nomination Folk made overtures to Cook and Crow to make a combination of their convention strength for their common benefit. Senator Stone intimates quite plainly that Folk is now trying to throw down the regular politicians whom he was quite willing to use in getting the nomination. The logic of his argument is that since the ring gave Folk his nomination he must stand by the ring and its representatives upon the ticket.

The incident is an instructive revelation as to the character of Democratic politics in Missouri and the shackles which a reformer is expected to wear when he gets the party nomination.

England's Industrial Depression.

A San Francisco manufacturer, Mr. John C. Shipp, who has just returned from a long visit to his old home in England, says that commercially and industrially things are very much depressed over there, and adds that "to my notion they will remain so until that country adopts the common-sense remedy proposed by Joseph Chamberlain." England is at present feeling the industrial reaction as it has not in years, and that country has become the dumping ground of manufactures from the United States and Germany in particular, and from every country that excels in manufacturing. Mr. Shipp is well qualified to discuss conditions in England, for he is a native of that country. He has been in the United States for 15 years, which is long enough to become acquainted with the great value of American methods and the American protective tariff. He says antiquated methods are a heavy drawback to Great Britain, but the chief trouble is the want of a protective tariff.

England is supposed to be a country of wide-awake people with a most practical turn of mind. But with all this the average Englishman is a great believer in tradition. What was good enough for his fathers before him is usually good enough for him. The free trade fallacy, to an Englishman, is a time-honored institution, and Mr. Chamberlain is having a hard time of it in his crusade for a change to the policy of protection. The recent by-elections have shown that he is making very little headway. Nor does the occasional visit to England of a former citizen who is now living under prosperous protective conditions in America have the influence in convincing the British manufacturer of value of such a system for England. Since Englishmen are, as a rule, logical, their present stand against the protective system begins to look like obstinacy.

Mr. Shipp's report of conditions as he saw them in free trade England is doubly interesting at this time, when the Democrats are telling the voters about "the robber tariff" and asking to be allowed to make changes that would place our industries in the same helpless condition as are England's industries now. But American voters are in a better position to understand the value of the tariff system than are the British voters. Its value has been proven to them by the prosperity that has come to the manufacturer and workingman alike. Consequently they are not in a mood to listen to Democratic arguments.

With 25,000 men in line we are compelled to take our hats off to the members of the Grand Army of the Republic. They have many younger men beaten on youthful spirits and energy.

The commander of the Russian cruiser Diana is a hero. He managed to run faster than the Japanese, and escaped to Vladivostok.

We hope that the friction among the members of the national guard will not cause them to be careless about their shooting.

Count Kawamura, "father of the Japanese navy," is dead. But he lived long enough to see his work bear fruit for the nation.

The graft affair in Allegheny is becoming interesting. Something is going to develop if the curtain is really lifted.

Col. Bryan's silence is wonderfully prolonged. Can it be that hypnotism has been introduced into politics?

That fellow Vardaman is enough to make even Mississippi ashamed of having elected him governor.

This is Uncle Gassaway's day on the political calendar.

Talked of in Gotham

By ALEXANDER DODDS.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The first real rehearsal of the coming theatrical season commenced this week and Broadway is happy again. Yesterday the bustle on the actors' half-mile was fairly noticeable, today it was more marked, and by tomorrow even those who still remain "at liberty" will chase up and down the Rialto with a "part" in flaming red or yellow cover, just to deceive their friends and others who are hurrying to and from rehearsal. There is always a crowd of player folk between West Thirty-fifth street and West Forty-second street in Broadway, but today both sides of this thoroughfare fairly swarmed with professionals. The smell of freshly signed contracts is in the air and the stories of salaries to be drawn sound like the early proofs of a story by Baron Munchausen.

It is not a crowd of unknowns that you brush against, either. Stumpy Frank Daniels, with a heavy coat of tan, was there today, as was John Drew. Mrs. Fiske walked from the Manhattan theater to Herald square at 4 o'clock for a cab, while Fritzi Scheff, who is getting familiar with "The Two Roses" at the Broadway, had a good laugh over practically her first romp on the Rialto with the players. Mme. Schuman-Heink is working hard at the Casino, where she will present "Love's Lottery." Of course there is much speculation as to what the prospects of the season are, but the Rialto is never serious and the only persons who are really giving this careful consideration are managers, and one seldom sees their faces about Broadway excepting after office hours.

Ban is Placed on Blonde Hair.

State Superintendent of Elections George W. Morgan has imperiled many votes because he announced the blonde-headed typewriter is no longer to be the joy of his office. Yesterday he sent an order to a typewriter concern for 50 machines and the necessary performers on these alphabetical keys. Attached to the order was the hint that these be not of the variety that has become a conventional hirsute tint whenever the hammer of the typewriter is heard. This sudden supremacy of the brunettes in point of favor has caused a sensation at the typewriter exchanges and a shifting of the color of woman's crowning glory may be immediately looked for. As a motive for the discrimination against the hitherto accepted blonde typewriter girl the fact that so many business men have been held up to ridicule for having their offices decorated with golden tresses is given.

Would Trade Thousands for Five Dollars.

Since last September Mrs. Mary Kraft, a scrubwoman, had in her possession a $4,000 diamond brooch which she thought was but "shiny glass." Yesterday she went to visit her friend, Mrs. Amelia Warren, and when the question of the price of a pot of beer arose between them, Mrs. Kraft suggested she pawn her fake pin. When Buckheimer, a pawnbroker in Grand street, saw 224 diamonds dancing before his eyes and heard with amazement the woman before him offer to part with it for $5, he pushed the police call button. Then it all came out. Last September Mrs. Kraft cleaned the summer residence of Henry F. Pearson at Cedarhurst, before it was closed for the season, and in removing a quantity of paper picked up the pin. She says:

"I thought it was a fake, else people wouldn't leave it around that way."

The brooch, which is one of very rare stones, is the property of Mrs. H. W. Garrett of Baltimore. She had loaned it to a friend and supposed after its return it had been placed in her safety deposit vault with a number of other rare and costly gems.

Sculptor Wants Extensive Damages.

Arnesto Biondi, the Italian sculptor whose bronze group, the "Saturnalia," provoked such a storm of criticism, affixed his name today to a complaint which charges the Metropolitan Museum of Art with doing him $200,000 damage. The artist claims the rejection of his masterpiece by the society and its subsequent confinement in the museum "morgue" worked him that much material harm. The group received the grand prix at the Paris exposition in 1900. A replica was bought by the king of Italy and placed in the Museum of Modern Art in Rome. Biondi thinks that this is enough to show that his creation is a work of art. He cannot see how it shocks the moral sense in any way. In fact, he declares that the "woman in the group is too plethorically clothed."

"By-By," Said the Senoritas.

Amid the waving of hundreds of the daintiest handkerchiefs that the shopping district of this city has to offer, amid tooting of whistles and dipping of flags, the transports Sumner and Kilpatrick left today, having as passengers the 600 Porto Rican school teachers, most of them young and pretty senoritas, who were brought here at the beginning of summer to absorb American ideas, ideals, theories and practices. The decks of the transports just before the sailing hour were as noisy as a sewing society, as the young women tried to express their appreciation in a series of Spanish and American adjectives, not of the educational systems, but of the chorus of Coney Island, where they went last night.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

If he isn't in his usual place or fails to make his daily rounds, you may safely say he is off on his vacation.

He may have been called away on some business more or less important or serious, but you can say he is on a vacation whether for pleasure, profit or by command of necessity.

This world is busy with pleasure and profit, but not with these exclusively, for there is a lot of sadness and suffering of which each of us gets a fair share and maybe a just share. This does not always appear clear and satisfactory and yet it is probably true since it is promised that we shall get all that is coming to us in this life and what we deserve in the next.

After vacation our neighbors will seem nearer to us if only we are glad to see them again. A bit of absence serves as a sort of spice to acquaintanceship, just as it lends enchantment to a pleasant view or conquers love.

So if you miss him from his usual place you will welcome him all the more heartily on his return.

* * * * *

The purely physical side of life has long been neglected by the moralist. In certain periods of ancient times the human body was looked upon as sacred. Mohammed embodied this idea in his religion, extending it to all forms of life.

It was left for civilization, however, to exalt spiritual life to a very high pinnacle and debase the body to the earth by teaching in broad terms that the physical environment of the soul was corrupt and cut no figure in the sight of God. Preachers and teachers dwelt entirely on the spirit and taught the debasement of the body.

The present diseased, morbid and defective condition of the race is but the natural result of such teaching. And we are still taught that the soul is the only part of man that needs to be cared for, and are lectured for giving so much attention to the body.

The trouble is not that we give too much attention to the body, but not enough to health. We waste our means on unnecessary food, dress and display instead of intelligently using them to secure a healthy development of the body. It is not the amount of food we eat, nor the quality of it, nor even the amount of it digested, that renders the body strong and vigorous, but the amount that is assimilated, or actually used in forming new tissue.

* * * * *

Those who have the means to live on the fat of the land, and to indulge their taste for rare dishes, do not fare any better in the matter of health than those who are only able to procure a reasonable amount of bread, meat and vegetables. In fact, high livers do not fare as well as those who are limited to plain, simple fare.

High livers are rarely long livers, [illegible] are among the best patrons of the doctors.

The same care exercised in the selection of our food, as given to that for cattle, horses and valuable dogs, would make dull times for the doctors, and start an era of good health such as has never been experienced in this country. There is not as much excuse for us being sick and diseased as there is for domestic animals.

This being true, is it not a sin for us to go on putting into our mouths that which will steal away not only our health but render us unable and unfit to appreciate and enjoy the blessings of life? How is it possible for us to feel really and truly thankful for life when it is full of discomfort? Are we not liars, or hypocrites, when in our prayers we say we are?

But who is to blame for all this trouble?

Manifestly ourselves, unless we charge our Creator with having made a serious mistake when he invested us with intelligence and gave us the privilege of choosing between good and evil, right and wrong. Our pains, aches, discomforts are of our own choosing.

* * * * *

Of course you will ask how we are to escape from the physical defects and disorders bequeathed to us by our ancestors.

We cannot escape, but we can aid posterity in escaping. The Creator declared that the sins of parents would be visited upon their posterity, even to the fourth generation. This declaration, as we know, is being fulfilled to the very letter, so that if the whole civilized world were to reform at once and continue to live right, it would require at least four generations to rid the people of all traces of the sins of their ancestors.

As these visitations are upon the physical as well as the spiritual man, is it not clear that the Creator regarded neglect or abuse of the body as a sin?

Fortunately for us, the tendency of all conditions in nature is toward the normal; consequently the tendency of our physical nature is toward perfect health. It is this natural tendency that enables us to recover from attacks of sickness and from injuries. It is this same law of nature that permits a final recovery from abnormal conditions inherited from our forefathers.

About the most that medicine or any special treatment can do for one who is diseased is to remove the conditions producing ill effects, and thus allow nature to resume her course. As long as defects or deformities exist in the mechanism of the body just so long will the effects be apparent.

No one doubts for a moment that moral restraints are essential to spiritual health. Hence, the systems of morals which constitute religions.

* * * * *

The first great system of this sort was formulated by Moses, and in it were incorporated strict rules for maintaining good health and for the regulation of society. Here we see that the physical man was regarded as of as much importance as the spiritual. It was clearly and and positively declared that to violate any of these laws of health was to commit a sin and a flagrant disregard of them was an abomination in the sight of the Lord, and worthy of severe punishment.

Since natural law does not change is it not as much a sin to abuse the body now as it was then?

After years of neglect, during which defects have been added that were bequeathed to you by your ancestors, a sudden reform on your part will not restore you to perfect health. This would be too much to expect, even from one so profligate with favors as our good mother nature. However, she will industriously strive to free you in some measure from your ills.

But you must not forget the debt you owe to posterity, and so live, and so instruct your children, that coming generations will have fewer and less severe ills to complain of than you have had. To do this is as much your religious duty as it is to pray for your children.

The Death Roll

The Hon. Malcolm McConnell.

The Hon. Malcolm McConnell died yesterday morning at the hospital in New Castle, Pa. He was defeated last March for the Republican nomination for the Lawrence county judgeship by Judge William D. Wallace, the present incumbent, after a close contest. This affected his health. It was not known that he was critically ill and his death was a shock. In 1898 he was appointed by councils, with Attorney C. H. Akens, as a special investigating committee to discover the murderers of City Treasurer John Blevins. It is believed they discovered the murderers, but never brought legal action, as they had not sufficient evidence for conviction. Mr. McConnell also served three years as district attorney and in 1900 and 1902 was elected to the state assembly from Lawrence county. He was one of the bitter opponents of the Salus-Grady libel bill and served as chairman of the house general judiciary committee. He was the son of Capt. Thomas McConnell of Lawrence county, and is survived by two sons, Findley of Sharon and Thomas of New Castle. He leaves one brother and two sisters, Mrs. George W. Hartman and Miss Arethusia McConnell of New Castle, and James McConnell of Slippery Rock township, Lawrence county. He was a trustee of the Second United Presbyterian church and was the first member of the New Castle chapter, Sons of the Revolution, to die. The funeral tomorrow afternoon at his late residence in Leasure avenue, New Castle, will be attended by the Lawrence County Bar association in a body.

Mrs. Mary Ross McBride.

Mrs. Mary Ross McBride died at the Homeopathic hospital yesterday. Mrs. McBride was the daughter of Washington Ross and was born in the historic stone house bearing the family name located five miles south of Kittanning. She was married twice, first to Dr. S. Van Antwerp, who died at Hornellsville, N. Y., the second time to Samuel McBride, who died in 1892. Since then she had lived in Bradford, being one of the owners of the Option, a leading hotel of that place. She is survived by her parents, three brothers and three sisters, one of the latter being Mrs. John W. Herron. She was a niece of Mrs. William Thaw. She had been in the hospital since the first week in July.

John C. P. Bell.

John C. P. Bell, aged 46 years, is dead at his late home in Walkers Mills. He was born in North Fayette township and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Bell. His father died about five years ago. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Nancy G. Bell, and a sister, Mrs. Martha W. Walker of Walkers Mills. Mr. Bell was a retired farmer. He accumulated wealth during the oil excitement in the McDonald field. He was a member of the Robinsons Run United Presbyterian church. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment following in the Chartiers cemetery.

The Hon. Perry Hannah.

The Hon. Perry Hannah, one of the wealthiest men in Northern Michigan, and a pioneer lumberman, died at his home at Traverse City, Mich., yesterday. He was stricken with paralysis last Saturday. Mr. Hannah, who was known as the father of Traverse City, made a number of splendid gifts to the city, among them being a church site and the site for a Carnegie library. In addition to his Michigan holdings, Mr. Hannah was the owner of much valuable property in Chicago. He was born in Erie county, Pa., in 1824.

Ex-Gov. Lounsbury.

George E. Lounsbury, who was governor of Connecticut in 1899 and 1900 and for many years one of the leading men of the state, died at his home in Farmingville, Conn., yesterday.

Cora E. Chamberlin, aged 23, daughter of Jesse Chamberlin, died at the family home in Hays borough yesterday after a short illness. She was a very active worker in the Methodist Episcopal church.

Mrs. William Allison, aged 49, died at her home, No. 115 Bausman street, Knoxville, yesterday after a short illness. She was a member of the Thirteenth United Presbyterian church and had been a resident of Allegheny county all her life. Her husband and four children survive.

August Sieg, aged 41, a well-known resident of Millvale, died yesterday at his home, No. 623 Farragut street, after a long illness. Mr. Sieg was born in Germany and came to Millvale in 1863. He was unmarried and employed as a puddler in the Howe-Brown mills. He was a member of the Bennett tent No. 30, Knights of the Maccabees and of the Fourth company, German Military society.

PERSONALS

E. J. Meyers of Toronto, Canada, passed through Pittsburgh last evening over the Pennsylvania railroad on his way to St. Louis on a pleasure trip. Speaking of the tariff plan of Joseph Chamberlain, he said: "I am of the opinion that the people of Canada are in no danger of being won over to the Chamberlain policy. Neither do I believe there is going to be assent given to the plan of reciprocity or free trade between Canada and the United States. Too many local interests would suffer by opening our markets to unrestricted importation of your products. Canada is extremely prosperous at the present time and as long as this condition endures, there will be but little response given from our side to the increasingly clamorous demand heard in New England for the enactment of a reciprocity law. In regard to our relations with Great Britain, I have this to say: Many of the loudest pro-British shouters in Canada, when it comes to the pinch, are the first to make complaints of the mother country. This was shown in the matter of the boundary dispute with the United States. Although Britain did all that was reasonable and proper in that matter, the moment the decision was rendered adverse to the Canadian contention, those radical loyalists made a great outcry of having been betrayed. The sentiment with us is, and will be for generations, one of the greatest affection and loyalty to the mother country. At the same time no plan that invites self-taxation in return for doubtful benefits will ever be adopted in Canada."

"There is something of a fight on in my state over the matter of railroad regulation," said A. Hindman of Olympia, Wash., when seen at the Hotel Lincoln last evening. "The farmers west of the Cascade mountains, which is the agricultural part of the state, are hot for a state commission on the ground that they are paying higher freight charges than are just. In Eastern Washington, where the big lumber, shingle and fishing interests are located, the people are opposed to any change in the present status. In the state Republican convention the anti-commission people came out victorious. Personally, I do not see there is any need for a commission. Such adjuncts to state governments have not often justified their creation. In Oregon where they tried the commission plan, it proved a rank failure and was finally abolished. Without making any prediction as to the outcome in the state election I do not mind saying that the electoral vote of Washington will be given to Roosevelt by an enormous majority."

James Wilson, president of the Patternmakers' league, arrived last evening in the interest of his union. He registered at the Griswold.

Dr. J. Chris Lange, dean of the Western Pennsylvania Medical college, who has been seriously ill with appendicitis at his home in Ninth street, is convalescing and will leave next week for Atlantic City.

A committee of 38 will meet tonight in the Wilkinsburg Baptist church to make final arrangements for a formal reception of the new pastor, the Rev. George C. Horter.

VETERANS WERE 26,000 STRONG

Three-Score of Them Drop from Exhaustion in Boston Parade.

COL. PRYON'S CASE FATAL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—If anything were needed to prove that the Grand Army of the Republic is still in fact a mighty host it was to be found today when, with half a million civilians looking on, 26,000 survivors of the union forces of the civil war, assembled here from all sections of the United States, marched through the streets of Boston. Five and one-half hours were required for the parade to pass a given point. It was a severe strain on the old soldiers, but generally they bore the hardship well. More than three-score of them dropped from the ranks from exhaustion and heat prostration and were cared for at the field and civic hospitals.

The death of one soldier marred an otherwise happy day. Col. John P. Pryon, a member of John A. Dix post of New York, died from heart failure induced by exhaustion. At least 250 spectators, mostly women, fainted during the parade, and many persons were slightly injured in the crush.

As the columns of blue swept up Beacon hill, closely following the northerly side of the famous Boston common, they were reviewed from the state house by Gov. John L. Bates, who was accompanied by distinguished personages, including Gov. Van Zant of Minnesota, former Govs. W. Murray Crane and George S. Boutwell of Massachusetts, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Booker T. Washington. At City hall, Mayor Patrick A. Collins reviewed the parade, having as his guests the mayors of a dozen cities.

At the end of the route, Commander-in-Chief John C. Black held his review. Several former confederate officers occupied places in the stand, and the pre-eminently picturesque feature of the parade was the "living flag" formed by 2,000 children dressed in white, red and blue, and seated near the reviewing stands. Every soldier of the marching army raised his hat as he passed this picture, while the children joined in "Dixie" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Among those who witnessed the parade from Tremont street was Gen. Nelson A. Miles.

The Illinois veterans received a particularly hearty welcome. Remarkable for its spontaniety was the reception given to the handful of veterans representing such states as North Dakota, Arkansas, Texas and Arizona territory. The Florida veterans carried palm branches, the Georgia delegation had a large live lizard in a network cage on top of a pole, the Texas banner was in the form of a pair of steer's horns, and Michigan displayed a live rooster.

Several regimental reunions and various receptions, including that of the Daughters of Veterans to the national officers, occupied the afternoon following the parade. Tonight the G. A. R. campfire was held in Mechanics building. Tobacco, coffee and doughnuts and cheese were served to 10,000 persons.

Never before have the Boston hospitals been so severely taxed as they were today during the passage of the parade through the streets of the city. At the relief hospital in Haymarket square, 130 cases of prostration and exhaustion had been treated up to 6 o'clock tonight. Of this number about one-half were veterans, while the others were mostly women. At the temporary hospital in the basement of City hall more than 80 cases were treated. About the same number were treated at the temporary field hospital on Boston common.

COCAINE SELLERS HEARD.

Supt. McQuaide Determined to Stop Use of Drug When Not Prescribed by Doctors.

Superintendent of Detectives McQuaide has started a crusade against men who sell cocaine without a physician's prescription, and yesterday four druggists were held for court in the sum of $1,000 each. The informations are based on an act of assembly, approved April 12, 1902. William Griffiths and Clark Soles were arrested by Detectives Lally and Leff about a week ago. After they were locked up the detectives say that inmates of disorderly houses who had been buying cocaine from the young men, who it is charged peddled it about, made inquiries for them and earnestly besought persons they knew to buy the drug for them.

Soles and Griffiths had a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Stewart. Several women testified that they bought cocaine from the defendants. After Soles and Griffiths had been committed to jail in default of bail the cases of James Welsh, who has a drug store at Fourth avenue and Ferry street, and of Thomas R. Wirshing, one of the owners of the Monongahela house pharmacy, were heard. Several witnesses were called to prove that cocaine had been purchased without prescription at both stores. They admitted they had bought none from Wirshing himself, but said it was easy to get it from the clerks at the store.

In discussing the cases McQuaide said Soles had written several bogus prescriptions. He said he intended to prosecute every druggist who sells the stuff without a prescription, and every physician who prescribes it for habitual users.

HEREROS BEATEN WITH HEAVY LOSS

Germans Drive South African Natives from Difficult Position and Capture Cattle.

VICTORY WON AT SEVERE COST

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, Aug. 16.—Four columns of German troops attacked the Hereros near Hamakari, German Southwest Africa, on the night of August 11. The fighting continued all day August 12. The natives were defeated with heavy loss. Five German officers, including Count Von Arnim and 19 men, were killed. Six officers, among them Baron Von Watter, and 52 men, were wounded. Two are missing. Thousands of cattle were captured.

Gen. Von Trotha, dispatching the particulars of the battle, adds that his soldiers fought with the greatest bravery.

The natives, who numbered about 6,000 fighting men, under old Chief Samuel Maherero, to whom the younger leaders had turned after their former reverses, were concentrated in the Waterberg mountains. With their women, children and flocks they occupied a plain of meadow land roughly estimated at 250,000 acres, on which they had 50,000 head of cattle and 50,000 sheep, goats, etc. The approaches to the plain were difficult passes so that the Germans had severe work forcing them. The number of the Germans is not accurately known, but as nine companies and four and a half batteries, with some irregular troops, were engaged, the total probably was about 2,000 men. Deserters from the Hereros reported that the arrival of German reinforcements at Swakopmund caused great discussion in the native camp. Chief Samuel spent much time in having the Bible read to him.

Gen. Von Trotha doubtless will follow up his success and finish the rebellion with the Waterberg campaign. It seems improbable that many of the natives can have escaped through the German forces holding the mountain passes.

POLICE BELIEVE STOLEN BOY WILL BE TAKEN TO ITALY

Washington (Pa.) Merchant Having Seaport Towns Searched for Son, Kidnaped by His Mother-in-Law.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Aug. 16.—Harry Demaras, a Greek candy merchant of this city, is in the east endeavoring to locate his mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie Pishoda, and his three-year-old son, whom she is charged with kidnaping. Last Tuesday Mrs. Pishoda told Mrs. Demaras that she was going to Pittsburgh. She asked to take her grandson with her, and permission was granted. The woman and her charge failed to return, and investigation disclosed that they had gone to Philadelphia and then to New York. Harry Demaras went to the latter city and later to Philadelphia on hearing a report that the woman was about to sail from Philadelphia for Europe. Officers and members of the family are on the lookout in every seaport town for the two. Demaras is a Greek, while Mrs. Pishoda is Italian, and it is believed to be her intention to go to Italy with her grandson. The home of the Pishodas is in Palermo, Sicily, and Demaras has cabled friends in Italy to have Mrs. Pishoda arrested on her arrival there. Demaras is wealthy.

His brother, Dracus, stated today that it was his belief that the little boy had been stolen for the purpose of ransom. He also expressed the opinion that the people implicated in the New York kidnaping case were also concerned in the stealing of young Demaras. The local police believe that John Pishoda, the woman's husband, who has a bad reputation, has taken charge of the grandson and will later go to Italy.

FIRE FIGHTERS ARE TO GIVE BIG PARADE

Hilltop Independent Company Will March for Two Hours Tonight.

The residents of the Hilltop boroughs, Mt. Oliver and Knoxville, are to be treated this evening to a parade by the Hilltop Independent Fire Company, the company which won two of the head prizes in the recent convention of the Western Pennsylvania volunteer fire companies at Connellsville.

The award of these prizes to the Hilltoppers at the first convention they have attended has shown the efficiency of the company as compared with its mates in other sections of Western Pennsylvania, and has awakened much pride among the people of Knoxville and Mt. Oliver. The company was requested to give the residents of the boroughs a parade and the residents expect to make much of the affair. A great display of fireworks will be made and a band has been engaged to enliven the occasion.

The route of the parade will be a long one, requiring over two hours to cover. The company will form outside its engine house in Southern avenue at 7:30 o'clock and march along Southern to Amanda, to Charles, to Beltzhoover, to Orchard, to Amanda, to Arlington, to Southern, to Penn, to Otilda, to Ormsby, to Carbon, to Southern, to Carrick and back to the engine house.

Invitations have been issued to the Mt. Oliver Hook and Ladder Company No. 1, the Lyman Volunteer Hose Company, the Montooth Borough Volunteer Company, the Carrick Borough Volunteer Fire Company and the McKees Rocks Volunteer Fire Company to take part in the celebration.

CATARRH DESTROYS THE KIDNEYS.

Was Miserable—Was Threatened With Bright's Disease. Pe-ru-na Cured Him.

MR. GEORGE KING.

Mr. James M. Powell, 633 Troost St., Kansas City, Mo., Vice Grand of I. O. O. F. of Cherryville, Kan., writes:

"About four years ago I suffered with a severe catarrh of the bladder, which caused continued irritation and pain. I was miserable and could not stand up or walk for any length of time without extreme weariness and pain. I began taking Peruna and it greatly relieved me, and in eleven weeks I was completely cured and felt like a new man."—James M. Powell.

Many Persons Have Backache and Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

Mr. George King, Deputy Sheriff of Rensselaer Co., N. Y., for years was a well known merchant of Troy. In a letter from No. 45 King St., Troy, N. Y., he writes:

"Peruna cured me from what the doctors were afraid would turn into Bright's Disease, and after you have gone through the suffering that I have with catarrh of the bladder and kidney trouble, and have been cured you are pretty apt to remember the medicine that did the work.

"Peruna is a blessing to a sick man. Eight bottles made me a well man and were worth more than a thousand dollars to me. I cannot speak too highly of it. It is now four years since I was troubled, and I have enjoyed perfect health since. Every spring and fall I take a bottle of it and it keeps me well. I freely recommend Peruna."—George King.

More people suffer from kidney trouble than any other ailment. Backache is generally the first symptom of diseased kidneys. Half of all cases of kidney trouble are due to catarrh of the kidneys. At first appearance of such symptoms Peruna should be taken. It strikes the root of the disease. It relieves the catarrhal kidneys of the stagnant blood, excreting the serum from the blood. Peruna stimulates the kidneys to expel from the blood the accumulated poison, and thus prevent the graver results which are sure to follow if poisons are allowed to remain. Peruna cures kidney disease because it cures catarrh wherever located.

Peruna stands before the nation as a thoroughly tested, accurately scientific internal remedy for catarrh. There are practically no medicinal rivals in the field.

GEORGE L. WALTER MAY BE ELECTED

Talked of as Member of the Workhouse Board to Succeed George A. Chalfant.

DEMOCRATS TALK BARBECUE

George L. Walter of Sharpsburg, a well-known Republican, will probably be elected to fill the vacancy on the workhouse board caused by the death of George A. Chalfant. The Allegheny county prison board elects the members of the workhouse board, and by filling the vacancy with Mr. Walter the retention of A. H. Leslie as superintendent of the workhouse is assured.

The leaders of the Citizens party waver every day between hope and despair, when considering the workhouse superintendency. On Sunday they were confident they could elect a Citizens man on the board; on Monday they were gloomy about it, and yesterday they again thought they saw some hope. But they refuse to give a list of the Republican members of the board upon whom they rely to put out Leslie.

The proposition to hold a grand ox-roast in connection with the meeting of the Democratic county committee took shape yesterday in the minds of the promoters, but nothing definite will be agreed upon until the county chairman, Thomas B. Alcorn, returns from his vacation, which will be on August 21. It is desired to have a big mass meeting in some grove, with a shelter house, where the county committee can meet, to nominate candidates for judge of the orphans court and for coroner, also candidates for congress in the four districts of this county. It is proposed that speakers of state and perhaps national prominence shall address the audience.

Common Councilman John A. Joyce of the First ward desires to be a candidate for select council, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George S. Fleming, if he can secure the backing of the city administration. Recently Joyce has been voting with the administration in council, and he is the only person who has been seriously considered for Fleming's place by the administration. P. F. Toole, brother of Alderman S. J. Toole, has announced himself as a candidate and this has caused the administration to think about putting up a candidate against Toole.

Mayor Hays is opposed to the Tooles because it was Alderman Toole who held the mayor to the grand jury at the time he was prosecuted by the civil war veterans for discharging old soldiers. Alderman Toole, however, is powerful in the First ward and it is generally believed that any candidate he may support will have a good chance of being elected. If Joyce should consent to run for select council it would cause a break with Alderman Toole, as it was the latter's support that elected him to common council last February.

Fleming's place is tempting to First warders because the man elected to fill the vacancy will hold the seat until 1908. Mayor Hays said yesterday that he would call the election for some time within 30 days, and that he would give 10 days' notice.

Mr. Fleming was not only the select councilman but was also a member of the First ward's school board and its representative in the central board of education. There are various candidates for these two places.

MRS. PHIPPS IS GIVEN MORE TIME TO PLEAD

Hope of Reconciliation Is Past and Divorce Will Be Fought.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

DENVER, Aug. 16.—Judge Mullins has granted Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps 10 days' additional time in which to plead to the divorce complaint of her husband. Last week Mr. Phipps, through his attorney, Gerald Hughes, secured a rule against the defendant to plead within five days. At the end of this time Judge Mullins of his own motion extended the time. Attorney Thomas Leftwich says that no opportunity has yet been had to prepare any pleading to the suit of Mr. Phipps. Attorneys Rodgers and Vaile, leading counsel for Mrs. Phipps, will be unable to give any attention to the local suit for several weeks.

It is now stated that all hope of a reconciliation or even a settlement between Lawrence C. Phipps and his wife is gone and the divorce will be fought most bitterly. Mrs. Phipps will make every possible effort to secure the control of her kidnaped daughters, who were taken to Denver from New York city. The extension of time gives Mrs. Phipps' attorneys until August 26 to file some kind of a motion. This is expected to be a motion to strike out. If dilatory tactics are employed in the hopes that alimony matters may be satisfactorily arranged out of court the divorce may not be tried before October. Otherwise it will probably come to trial next month.

SAY THEY STOLE CATTLE.

South Side Men Are Accused of Relieving Beef Famine Unlawfully and Are in Jail.

Frank A. Kammerling of Mignonette street, is in jail. It is said that he, with the assistance of Samuel Burch, who is now serving a workhouse sentence for flourishing firearms, realizing the financial appreciation of beef now prevailing, rounded up many of the cattle roaming in Sterrett township, regardless of ownership, and led them to slaughter.

Action was brought before Justice Andrew Harcum, in Sterrett township, yesterday, by Charles Resiner, a farmer, and E. M. Mylin, a street car man. Both live back of Wilkinsburg and kept a cow apiece. Kammerling and Burch are alleged to have driven the cows to Rankin and sold them to a butcher. Kammerling claims he did not know the cows were stolen and was hired by Burch to drive them to Rankin. He says he received $19 for the drive. Kammerling was committed to jail pending the release of Burch, when the case will be heard.

WORK WILL SOON START.

Wabash's Duquesne Way Line Not to Be Delayed—No Mammoth Car Elevators.

Capt. Alfred P. Boller of the New York engineering firm of Boller & Hodge, who designed the Wabash extension bridges, was in Pittsburgh yesterday in conference with Vice President J. W. Patterson of the Wabash-Pittsburgh terminal railway.

As soon as the detailed plans can be completed the Wabash proposes to let contracts and go ahead with the construction of its Duquesne way branch, so it was stated yesterday. These plans are being prepared in Capt. Boller's office.

There have been various statements recently that the Wabash proposes to have elevators that will raise 10 loaded freight cars and an engine at once in its South Side freight station. These plans are denied by Vice President Patterson, who says that the elevators planned there are only those for heavy freight before loading or unloading.

Thief Admits His Guilt.

William and Robert Ellis of Spring Hill, Allegheny, are in the North Side police station charged with being suspicious persons. The house of Mrs. Mary Geary, 1201 Palo Alto street, was robbed of a lot of clothing and jewelry last Saturday night and the Ellis brothers were suspected of the crime. William Ellis admitted his guilt and some of the stolen goods was found in his possession. William Ellis is said to be a deserter from the United States navy at League Island station.

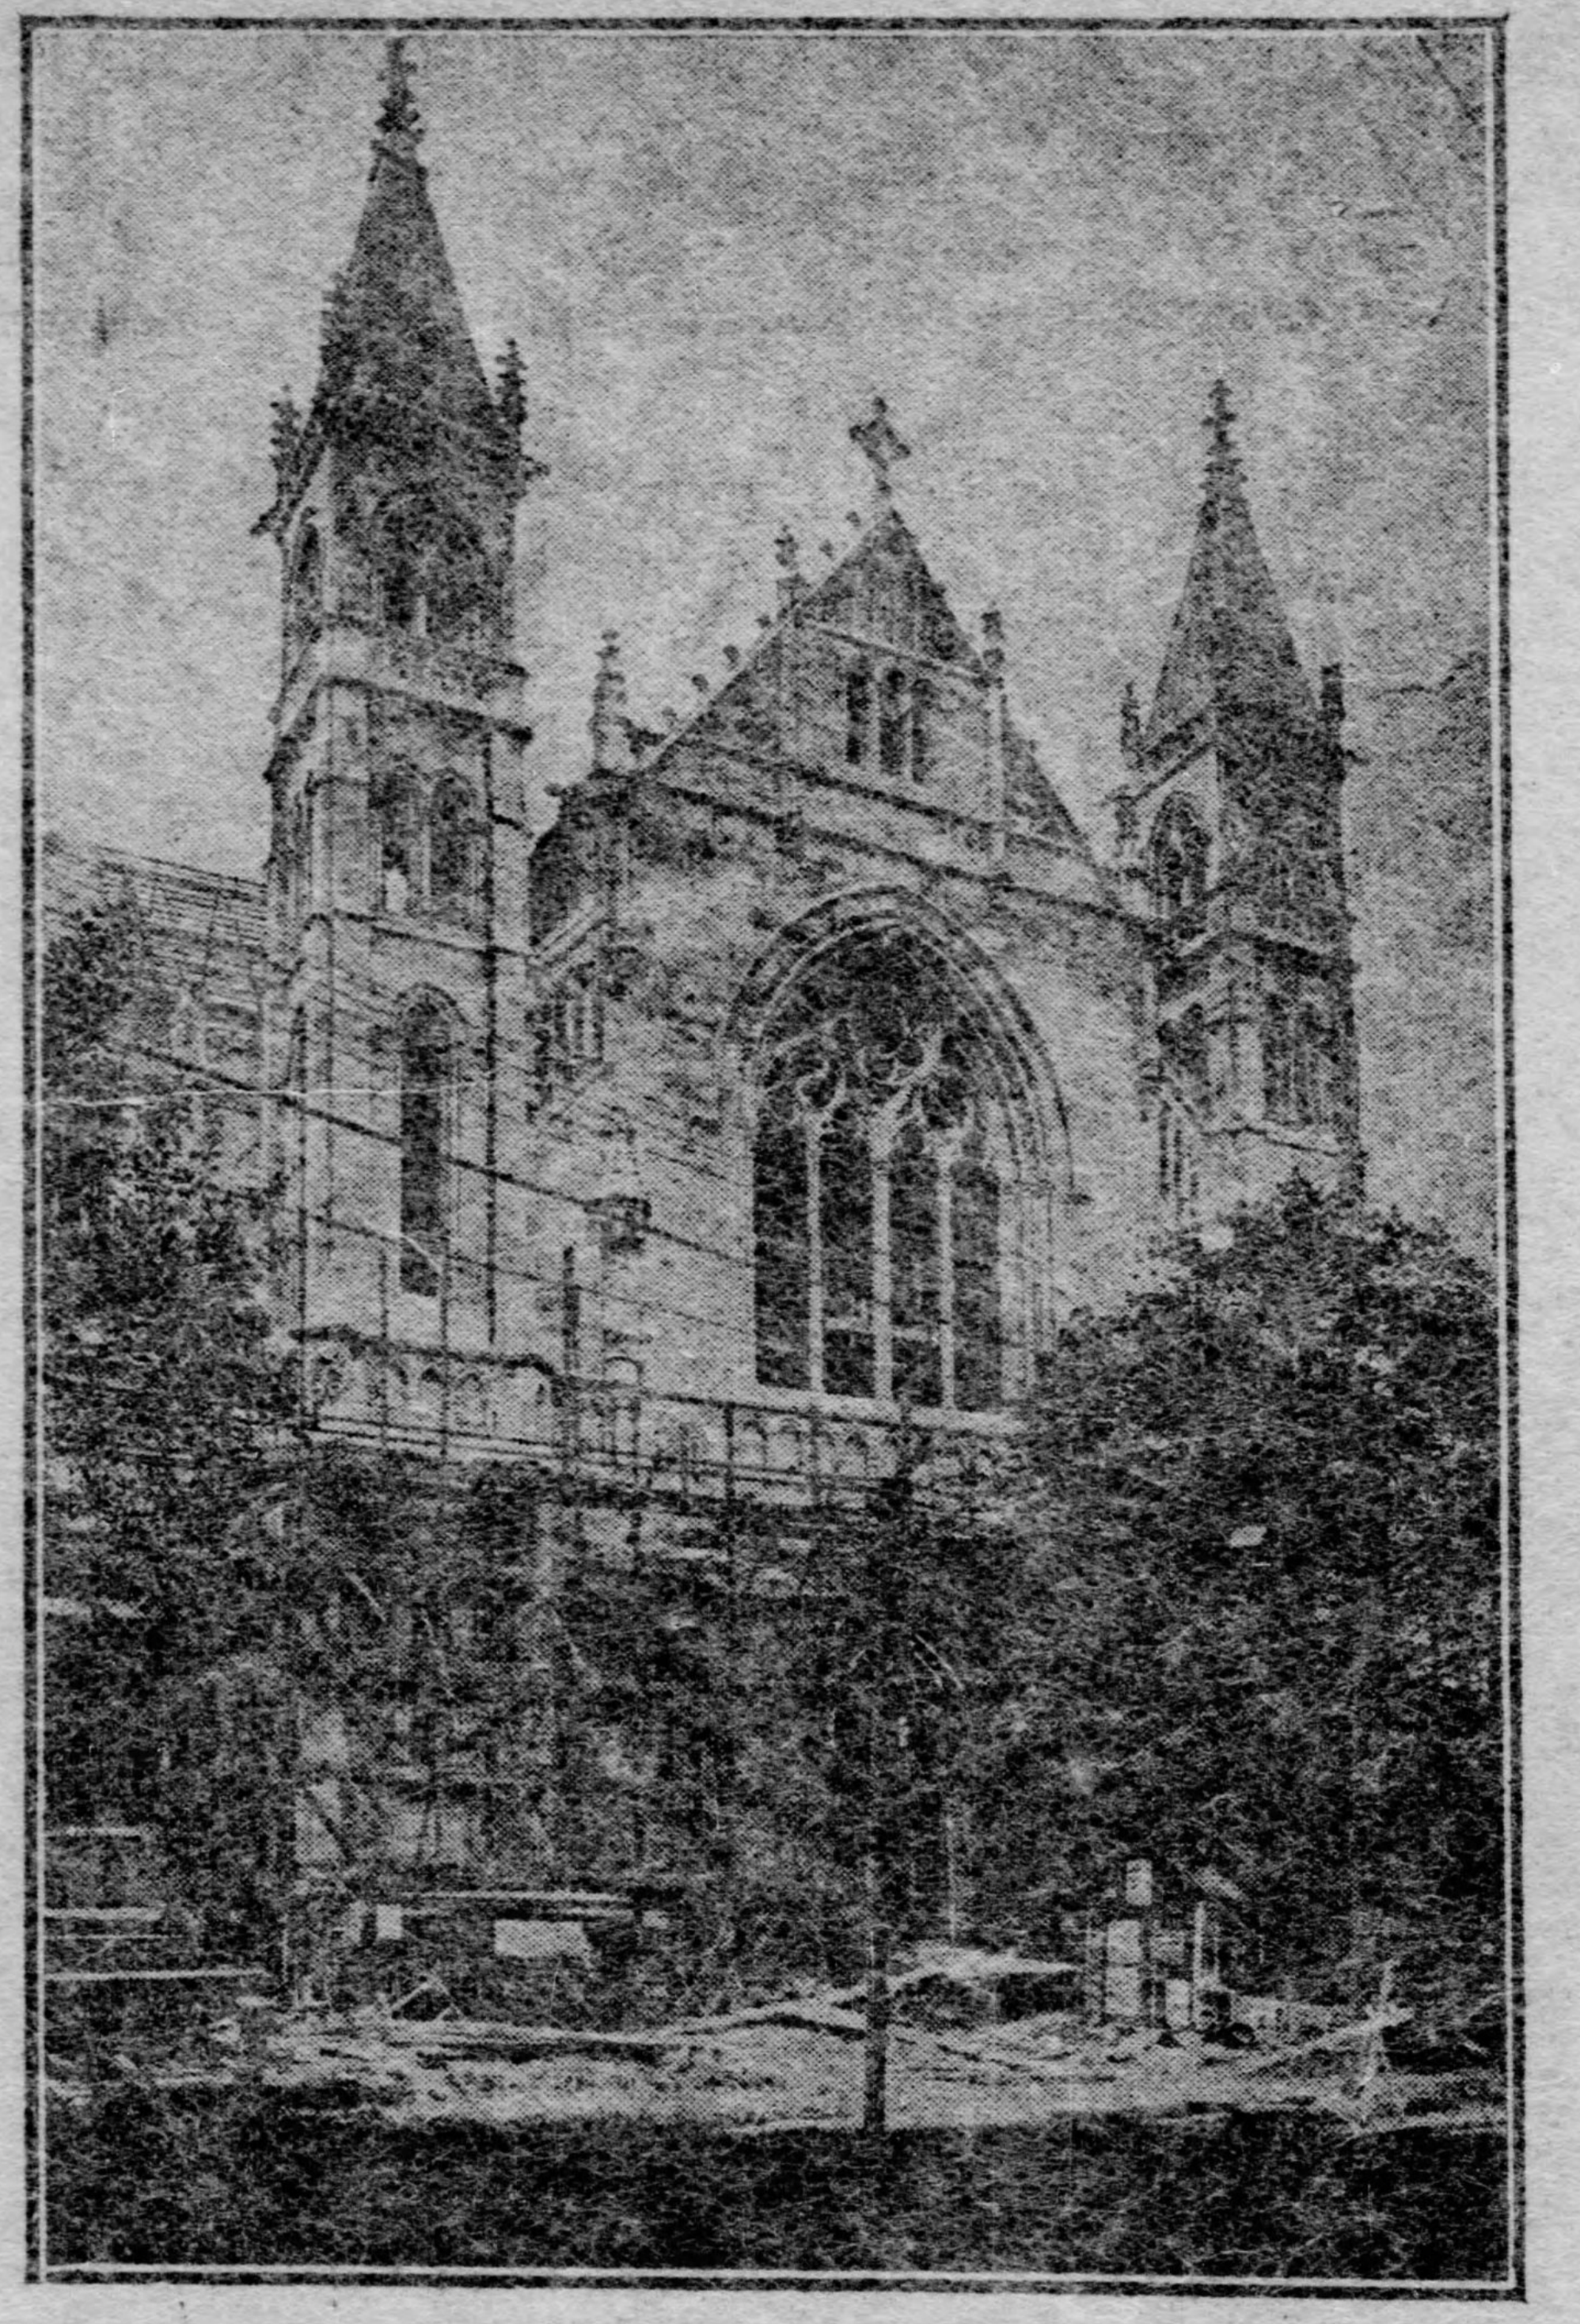
FINDLAY, O., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Theodore Westcott, merchant, politician and stockman, of Van Lue, committed suicide today.

Charge Would Seem To Be a Proper One

Justice Rinaman of Travesky yesterday sent Martin Reiter to jail. Martin got drunk and flourished a pistol and an information was made charging him with "shooting and acting in a dangerous way."

Beauties of Noble Architectural Pile are Daily Becoming Apparent



The handsome architectural features of the new St. Paul's Roman Catholic cathedral, at Fifth avenue and Craig street, are being revealed as the lofty scaffolding used in the construction of the walls is demolished. The view herewith presented is the east transept, facing Duquesne Garden in Craig street. It shows the ornate work that characterizes the minarets, and also the beautiful stone tracery work about the gothic windows. Contracts for the glass for the windows have been let and have been scattered between firms east and west, part of the work even going to Berlin and Paris. It is understood the windows will cost $40,000. The facade is still hidden behind scaffolding and will be for some time to come, it being required in the construction of the two main towers, but not a day passes now but what new beauties of the noble pile are exposed to view. When completed the new cathedral will be one of Pittsburgh's most notable buildings.

ADDITIONAL SPORTING

BOUND TO GET EVEN.

Pugilist Dick Moore Doesn't Want Law to Help Him Out.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Very much battered up, Dick Moore, who some years ago came to this country from Australia looking for pugilistic heavyweight honors, was arraigned today before Magistrate Healey in the Long Island City courts. He had spent the night in the Astoria police station after being found in a dazed condition in a clump of bushes at the roadside at Jackson avenue and Bowery Bay road, Woodside, a deserted spot.

After being revived at the police station Moore refused to tell who had assaulted him, saying merely: "Well, I got out of my own bailiwick, that's all. I'll 'tend to this thing myself." In court he repeated this threat. His face was bruised and cut and a plate, on which were several false teeth, had been knocked down his throat, almost choking him to death.

WARD AND WRIGHT WON.

They Are Now the American Tennis Champions.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 16.—Ward and Wright won the doubles tennis championship of America today by a brilliant victory over Collins and Little and through the default of the Doherty brothers of England.

Little had to bear the brunt of the battle, and though he did well he could not stand the clever attack of the winners. Collins was the most brilliant of the four players, but was not as steady as either Ward or Wright.

A good number of matches in singles were run off in the first and second rounds. The games were without special feature. Several defaults were recorded, including those of Malcolm G. Chase and R. C. Seaver. The matches scheduled for the afternoon had to be postponed on account of rain. Tomorrow's program includes the finishing of the first two rounds in singles.

PITTSBURGH MAY GET IN.

This City Likely to Be Represented in the Bowling League.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Latest reports from the officials of the National Interstate Bowling league state that there will in all probability be 12 cities enrolled. It is doubtful whether there will be a southern division, as was originally intended. It is certain, however, that there will be eight, divided into eastern and western divisions. The eastern will be composed of Jersey City, Paterson, New York and Brooklyn, and the western of Erie, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and either Pittsburgh or Syracuse. Should there be a southern division the cities of Washington, Wilmington, Baltimore and Philadelphia will be included.

President William Cordes is enthusiastic regarding the prospects of the success of the league, while Manager F. E. Samuels has expressed his intention to get together the strongest combination of New Yorkers possible to represent this city in the contests.

Schaefer Will Not Meet Vignaux.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Within the course of two or three weeks Jake Schaefer, the billiardist, will leave for Paris. Contrary to report Schaefer will not play Vignaux while in Paris, but will merely go there on a matter of business. It was denied authoritatively that he would either play or arrange for a match while abroad. Schaefer intends to remain in Europe about a month, and will then return to America for good.

Old Rivals Will Meet.

At Kittanning tonight Eddie Kennedy and Mull Bowser are to meet in an argument of 10 rounds. The men have met twice and each has a victory to his credit, so that the go tonight will be for blood. STRUCK A MATCH; BIG FIRE FOLLOWS

Explosion in Sharpsburg Hardware Store Last Night Caused Loss Aggregating $10,000.

MANY EXCITING INCIDENTS

Fire totally destroyed the barn and warerooms of S. J. Saint, hardware dealer, at 906-908 Main street, Sharpsburg, last night, causing a loss of $10,000. Two store rooms connecting were completely gutted, while a driving horse was badly burned and cut, and the home of Caesar Kinnebrew, adjoining, was damaged to the extent of $100. The buildings were fully insured.

The fire originated from an explosion of "dryer" and turpentine, following the lighting of a match in the store room. Seavey J. Saint, the proprietor, was searching for a bottle of "dryer" when the explosion occurred. Much powder and dynamite stored in the building was safely removed. Barrels of oil within easy reach of the first flames intensified the blaze, and within five minutes a terrific and spectacular fire was raging.

In response to a general alarm all the fire apparatus of Sharpsburg and Etna responded, and six streams were played upon the fire. Prompt work on the part of the firemen saved the surrounding buildings which were seriously threatened.

Several firemen were injured. Assistant Chief Edward Myers, W. H. Cellars, Charles Blazer and Gustave Lucas were thrown from the roof of the stable by the force of a stream of water. Cellars was cut about the hands, Blazer had a leg badly sprained and the others were bruised and cut.

George Eshelman and Frank Golla of Sharpsburg broke down the stable door while the fire was at its worst and rescued a horse. After the flames were checked a crowd invaded the warerooms and several attempts at robbery were reported. George Kaiser was arrested as a suspicious character but was later released.

Several men attempted to enter the rear of the jewelry store of J. G. Corbett during the fire. One man was caught by Corbett, who hurled him over a four-foot fence.

Twenty years ago a fire swept out the block in which last night's fire occurred, sparing only the hardware store which suffered last night.

BLEW 36 MILES AN HOUR.

High Wind Prevailed and Much Rain and Some Hail Fell Yesterday Afternoon.

One of the severest showers of the year, and the heaviest that prevailed in any portion of the country yesterday, began here shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, continuing for one hour and 20 minutes. A rainfall of .57 inch was registered. The greater portion of the rain fell in 15 minutes, during which time a wind of 36 miles an hour velocity prevailed. Hail fell for about five minutes after the shower began.

Forecaster Ridgway stated that the storm was caused by the overheated condition of the atmosphere, and was followed by a 21-degree fall in the temperature. Storms prevailed yesterday in the Rocky mountain states, and several southern states, while the middle west and east were not affected.

During the storm the sewer in Glenmore avenue, Espien, overflowed, the water rushing in a torrent five feet deep down the center of the street, which is not paved, causing a washout. Sand and gravel were carried down over the embankment in River avenue, piling up to the depth of four feet for 75 feet, on the street car tracks. The McKees Rocks and Coraopolis cars were tied up for an hour and a half.

DACHROTH TO BE HEARD.

Allegheny Policeman Will Appear Again Tonight Before the Police Judicial Board.

Nothing developed yesterday in the investigation being made by the Allegheny police into charges of corruption lodged against certain police officials by Policeman Amos Dachroth. The meeting of the police judicial board has been postponed until tonight, when a number of women from the lower wards will be questioned as to the statements made that they paid for police protection.

Dachroth said yesterday that he had made information against three city officials, charging them with extortion. Who these officials were, and where the charges were made, Dachroth would not say. It was reported, however, that the informations had been made before Alderman McMasters of Pittsburgh. The latter was not in the city last night, and the truth of the report could not be ascertained.

At the meeting of the police board tonight Dachroth will be asked to face certain women whom he says paid money to the police for protection. Dachroth says he will be present and will give any testimony that many assist in the investigation.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The Giants lost both games of a double-header to the Champions this afternoon at the Polo grounds. Scores, 7 to 2 and 4 to 1. This is the first time this has been accomplished this season at home or on the road. Added to the double defeat handed to the McGrawites was the "benching" of Mathewson after the second inning of the opening game. Wiltse, who supplanted him, pitched a clever game for four innings. Then the Pirates got on to his delivery and scored five hits, which netted two more runs, five having been acquired during the first two innings.

While Leach and his crew were doing things on this side of the bridge, the Hanlonites added two games to their string, and at the same time increased Pittsburgh lead in third place by shutting out Kelley's Red Legs in both games of a double-header at Washington park. "Red" Scanlon, a former Pirate, turning the trick for Brooklyn in the opening game.

Patsy Flaherty, the Carnegie lad, pitched a heady and steady game in the opening contest, allowing the Giants only seven hits, and these were too far apart to do any material damage.

For the first time this season the Giants were guyed by the bleacherites for their errors of omission and commission. This happened in the first two innings of the curtain-raiser, during which they gave an exhibition of "fifty ways to lose a ball game." Bresnahan, who played first in place of McGann, being the chief offender, four runs resulting through his wild throws to the plate and an error.

Lynch made his initial bow at the Polo grounds in the final game, with "Dummy" Taylor opposing him. He let the locals down with seven singles, and not until the final inning could they get a man beyond the halfway station, when Mertes scored their only tally. Mike fielded his position grandly, accepting six chances and connecting with Taylor's offerings for two singles.

Harry McCormick, the former Giant, made his debut here as a Pirate. He struck out five times in the two games, and in his final turn at bat tore off a clean triple. Quick and sharp fielding by the Pittsburghers as a body, aided by timely batting and taking advantage of New York's misplays at every opportunity characterized the work of Leach and his associates in both games.

Mathewson started in to pitch the opening game, but was driven to the bench after two innings by the fierce batting of the Pirates, who chalked up four runs, which lead the Giants could never overcome, as Flaherty proved too clever for them.

The Champions were gingered up when they started the second game. After failing to score in the first and second innings, Ritchey placed a triple in left field. Carisch went out, Devlin to Bresnahan. Lynch placed a single in right and Ritchey scored. Bresnahan made a bad throw of Leach's lick, Lynch going to third and Leach second. Beaumont hit to Taylor and both Lynch and Leach were on third. The Giants' infield got in the play and a double play was pulled off, Taylor to Warner to Mertes, who put Leach out on third and Lynch was run down Mertes to Taylor. With two down in the fourth, Bransfield doubled and added another run on Kruger's single.

While two runs looked big enough to win the game, the Pirates were taking no chances, and got busy in the final inning. McCormick, the first batter up, did not strike out this time. He hit for three bases instead and scored on Wagner's single. Bransfield sacrificed, Kruger went out at first also. Ritchey's hit looked good for a home run, but the best he could make was third, Wagner scoring. After having the kalsomine applied for eight innings the Giants scored a run in the ninth inning. Mertes doubled to left, Dahlen popped flied to Ritchey, Gilbert was hit by a pitched ball. Ritchey could not get Warner's lick, which went through his legs, Mertes saving his side from a shut out. The Pittsburgh and Giants have decided to remain here Friday, the 19th, an open date, and play off a postponed game, after which both teams go to Pittsburgh for a three-day series. The scores:

Thinks Dreyfuss Made a Mistake.

Writing from New York Ren Mulford, Jr., says in the Cincinnati Enquirer: "Ned Hanlon and Frank Bancroft have been hobnobbing together at Brighton Beach. 'How in the world did you coax Barney Dreyfuss to give up Sebring?' asked the Brooklynite. 'I think him the star among right fielders. If I had Donlin I'd given him and $4,000 to boot for a player of Sebring's character.' "

Pacer Can Do Some Trotting.

SAUGUS, MASS., Aug. 16.—At the opening of the August meeting of the old Saugus track today Anaconda, a fast pacer, went into the 2:30 trot and won the race in three straight heats. PIRATES' DOUBLE VICTORY PROVED VERY POPULAR

The double victory scored by the Pirates over the New York Giants yesterday was the most popular baseball treat that the local followers of the game have had this season. This was shown by the amount of interest centered in the games all afternoon at points where the scores were posted. When the second victory was bulletined the shouts sent up were loud and hearty.

That the local followers of the game have not yet given up hope of their team winning its fourth pennant was plainly evident, and all over town last night the baseball cranks were figuring it out that if by some means the Pirates can get away with the present series they have the flag as good as won. The great interest in the games played yesterday was not confined to any one class of people, for it seemed that half the population was gathered about the bulletin boards.

At the supper hour the people on their way home were given a chance to see the scores by the motormen on the cars, who were also interested, and when a point was reached where the score was being posted the motormen would slow up in order that the score might be read, and when the second victory was announced the cheers were not forgotten even by the travelers on the cars. One great source of delight was the downfall of Christy Mathewson, in the first game. The Bucknell boy is not very popular in this city, and the announcement that he had been driven from the box was received with much evidence of delight.

BROOMSTICK IS BEATEN BY VERY SMALL MARGIN

Molly Brant Won the Feature Event at Saratoga and the Finish Was Very Exciting.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 16.—A stretch duel between Broomstick and Molly Brant in the Merchants' and Citizens' handicap, the decision going to Molly Brant by a neck, was the feature of today's racing. The field in this race was the best that has been out since the meeting opened. Broomstick got away well and made pace the whole distance, one mile and a furlong. It was a two-horse race most of the way, Molly Brant never allowing Broomstick to get far ahead. The grandstand was on its feet as they came through the stretch neck and neck. Africander, who had been third all the way, was beaten out of third money by half a length.

Adriutha, having won the first race by a length from Sir Lynnewood, Molly Brant's victory gave J. Sanford's stable two races today. Summaries:

First race, seven furlongs—Adriutha, 113, Lyne, 9 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; Sir Lynnewood, 106, Cormack, 8 to 1 and 3 to 1, second; Marjoram, 99, J. Jones, 1 2to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:25 4-5.

Sixth race, one mile and a furlong on turf—Bobadil, 90, Sperling, 3 to 1 and even, won; Keynote, 103, W. Fisher, 7 to 5 and 3 to 5, second; Brooklynite, 99, Robbins, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:52 4-5.

American Jockeys the Real Thing.

LONDON, Aug. 16.—Maher, the American jockey, rode four winners, finished third on another out of six races at the Stockton summer meeting today. Another American jockey, Madden, rode two winners and one second and one third horse. Maher's best win was the Stockton handicap plate of $2,000, a mile and a half, which he won by a short head, owing to good riding on Lord Ellesler's Gower, the favorite.

THE FAVORITES FARED BADLY

Gallagher, the Canadian Wonder, Beaten in the 2:08 Pace After Four Heats.

A BIG CROWD AT THE TRACK

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—In spite of cloudy weather the attendance was large on the second day of the Grand Circuit meeting at Brighton Beach. The 2:20 trot, worth $5,000, and the 2:08 pace for the same amount at mile heats, two in three, were the big features of the day. The 2:20 trot proved disastrous to the favorite. In the early pools Snyder McGregor sold for $25, Bonnie Russell $10, Stanley Dillon $8, and the balance of the field for $15. Stanley Dillon won the race in straight heats.

In the 2:08 pace Gallagher was a hot favorite at $50 with Pan Michael $15, John M., $10 and the field $5. In the first heat, though the favorite had the pole, Pan Michael had so much the best of the start that he was able to shoot across and get the pole at the first turn and to keep it to the end, though the favorite succeeded in passing the balance of the field and was only beaten a length. Gallagher won the second heat, but in the third heat both favorites were tired and John M. won in slow time. John M. won the next heat with ease. Summaries:

BIGELOW GIVES ALL TO SISTERS

Brief Will of Former Citizens Party Leader Is Filed for Probate.

CAVEAT IN FLEMING ESTATE

One of the briefest wills ever filed in a large estate in Allegheny county was that of Thomas S. Bigelow, probated yesterday by Register Stengel. It was written by the deceased himself on a sheet of his office stationery, and leaves everything to his three sisters. No estimate was given, although it is believed Mr. Bigelow left over a million dollars. It reads as follows:

"I hereby devise and bequeath all of my property, real and personal, to my sisters, Mary L. Bigelow, Virginia C. Schultz and Elizabeth M. Woods, share and share alike, and they are made executors of this, my last will and testament.

"Witness my signature this 17th day of January, 1903.

"THOMAS S. BIGELOW."

"Witness, W. W. THOMSON."

"A Garland of Violets" which is already the subject matter in pending litigation, was yesterday brought to the front again by the suit of W. M. Dick, doing business as W. M. Dick & Co., against Miss Candace A. Yendes, to recover $65. He alleges she ordered 1,000 copies of the phamplet for which she agreed to pay $65, but has failed to pay.

A caveat was yesterday filed with the register of wills against the probating of any paper purporting to be the will of the late George S. Fleming, or the granting of letters on his estate. The caveat was filed by his sisters, Annie F. Richards and Martha F. Rutan, who claim to be the next of kin and request a hearing in the matter. No will has yet been offered nor has application been made for letters of administration.

Charles B. Hoffman, a contractor of Butler, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Liabilities, $3,646.01; assets, $3,455.79.

An equity suit was filed by the Monongahela Iron and Steel Company against the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railway Company, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, lessee, and the borough of Hays. The action involves the vacation of a portion of James street, on which the railroad is constructing its tracks.

The following executions were issued: Bowman & Wilson vs. Daniel Stratton, $232 41; Samuel Adams vs. J. B. Rockford, $176 60; Henrietta C. Welsh, executor vs. James Jameson, $2,148 17; Life Protective Savings and Loan association vs. John Patton et. al., $2,088 24; George E. Alter, trustee, vs. Thos. D. Wollett et. al., $2,178 66.

In the United States circuit court a motion was made by the Pittsburgh Railways Company to quash the writ and the whole case in which the railway company is defendant. It was sued for damages by John Chapman of New York, a Baltimore & Ohio railroad brakeman. He claims he was attending to his duties on top of a car going through Rankin, and that he was swept from the car by the wires of the defendant company. The defendant claims suit had been entered against them in the county courts and that a non-suit was granted, the case still pending. They allege there cannot be two suits at the same time for the same offense.

Judges Collier and Brown granted an injunction in the case of the Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Company against sixty of its former workmen, to prevent them from interfering with men now employed at the plant. The defendants agreed to the issuance of the injunction and will abide by it.

Hasty judgment on the part of Mary James, according to the statement of George Kimmel, caused her to be made the defendant in a $5,000 suit brought by him yesterday, and a capias was issued for her arrest. On August 11 last, he says he called at her home in Hazelwood to sell her some goods. She had no change smaller than a $10 bill and as he was unable to change that, the sale fell through. He left the house, but she followed him along the street, he alleges, and denounced him until a policeman was reached, who arrested Kimmel and locked him up until the next day. The next morning he was discharged, as he says the defendant learned she had misplaced the money.

On the petition of Theresa and Louisa Nozzolillo, and Guitatano Pretillo, a rule has been granted on the city of Pittsburgh to show cause why an ordinance for the paving of Omega street from Station street to Everett street should not be quashed. It is alleged the petition for the improvement was not signed by the majority of the property owners.

In the cases of Margaret Mayer against the city of Pittsburgh and the Allegheny County Light Company in which she asks $25,000 damages from each for alleged negligence, statements have been filed. The suits were entered on account of the death of the plaintiff's husband, Casper Mayer, a policeman, who was killed on April 1, this year, by coming into contact with a live wire on the South Side.

The Three Rivers

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 16.—The stage of the river at 8 o'clock this evening marked 5.6 feet and falling, making a fall of .6 feet during the last 24 hours. Weather, clear and very warm. Today's packet departures were: Tacoma for Pomeroy, Courier for Maysville, Levi J. Workum for Madison, City of Cincinnati for Louisville. There were no towboat movements today. The water is falling fast here and there is a prospect of the larger boats laying up before many days. The water is getting very shallow on Crawfish bar, opposite the foot of Torrence road, and the excursion steamers have had a hard time in getting over that place. Col. L. J. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, arrived in the city today. He held a consultation with Capt. J. F. Ellison, secretary of the association, on the question of the next convention of the association, which will be held at Huntington, W. Va., on November 14, 15 and 16. Harbor masters are much worried about their fleets on account of having to anchor them out into the stream so far. There is some danger of the fleets being swamped by the waves of the passing steamers.

PARKERSBURG—River 3 feet and rising slightly. Weather clear and hot. Valley Belle left for Middleport. Bessie Smith left for Wheeling.

HUNTINGTON—River 4.9 feet and falling. Lizzie Bay for Cincinnati at noon, Tacoma for Pomeroy tonight.

LOUISVILLE—River falling. In canal, 3.9; on falls, 1.7, below locks, 6 feet. Fair, warm.

MARIETTA—River 2.6, stationary. Cloudy and warm. Bessie Smith up at 10 a. m.

WARREN—River .6. Weather clear and warm.

OIL CITY—River 3 inches and stationary. Weather cloudy and warm.

PT. PLEASANT—River 1.9 feet and falling. Weather clear and warm.

GREENSBORO—River 6.2 feet and stationary. Woodward down Wednesday and Columbia up.

WHEELING—River 2.5 feet and stationary. Warm and cloudy, with rain. Bedford tied up at Parkersburg; Bessie Smith expected to go to bank.

STEUBENVILLE—River 2.1 feet and stationary. Weather cloudy and warm.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 2.7 feet and the river was stationary.

FEW BOATS MOVING.

Harbor Now Looks Deserted—Boats Are Being Repaired for Fall.

Only three boats moved in the Monongahela harbor yesterday. The I. C. Woodward arrived from Morgantown in the morning, and departed at the usual time with a good trip of freight and about 75 passengers. The Francis J. Torrance left in the morning for Moss Side park with employes of the boat and their families and friends. The P. M. Pfeil brought down a tow of coal from the upper pools and steamed under the Smithfield street bridge about 1 o'clock p. m.

Aside from the movements of these steamers the rivers were lifeless. For miles on both sides of the Monongahela are tow boats, and the same is true of the Ohio between the harbor and Davis Island dam. These steamers are being repaired and placed in shape for the fall season. The J. B. Williams is having a new wheel put on and the big Sprague will be repaired generally inside of 30 days. The Wilmot and Jim Brown have been repaired during the past week and the Oakland has had a new wheel put on her during the quiet season. By the time navigation opens up in the fall, the boats owned by local companies will look like new, many of them having been painted as well as remodeled.

Local River Notes.

Capt. Jason Curtis has returned from a trip to Atlantic City. Capt. James McDonald will leave for a trip to the coast next Tuesday.

Capt. Scott Dawson, who has been ill for two weeks, is reported much better. He was called on yesterday by several members of Harbor No. 25.

Important matters are to come before the meeting of Harbor No. 25 next Saturday. Notices have been sent out stating that it is urgent that as many members as possible be present.

The employes of the Torrance had a real gala day on their boat yesterday. They went to Moss Side park and were there until evening. They played baseball and had all the fun imaginable. Capt. Theodore Miller, manager of the Torrance, was in the party.

SOCIETY

DR. AND MRS. EUGENE O. PEARSON of Ward street were host and hostess at a daintily appointed little dinner last evening at their home in Oakland. The guests of honor were Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Pearson of Slippery Rock, who have been visiting their son and daughter-in-law for a week, and who leave for their home today.

Covers were laid for 12, the guests including Dr. and Mrs. Pearson, the guests of honor, and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Righter, Miss Edna Righter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Brett, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and Frank Righter. The table was prettily decorated with clusters of nasturtiums, and the places were marked by dainty little water-colored cards.

Mrs. Pearson, the hostess last evening, will be remembered as Miss Blanche Early Righter, a bride of the spring. Her sister, Miss Edna Righter, has recently returned from a trip to Hamilton, Ontario, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Griffith, formerly of this city. Miss Martha McDonald of Mt. Washington accompanied Miss Righter to Hamilton, but has since gone up to Sparrow lake, where she expects to remain until early next month.

Miss Fetterman's Wedding Plans.

Miss Valeria Fetterman has been chosen maid of honor for her sister, Miss Agnes Metcalf Fetterman, daughter of the late Judge C. S. Fetterman of this city, whose marriage to Thomas Galbraith McCleary of New Castle will take place on Thursday, August 25. The only other attendant will be the best man, Roy Dunn, of this city. The Rev. Edward Calvin McCown, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of Mt. Lebanon, will perform the ceremony, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fulton, in Mt. Lebanon, and a brother of the bride, Dr. James McElroy Fetterman, will give his sister away. The guests will include only relatives and a few of the most intimate friends. The bride and bridegroom will leave after the wedding supper for a tour of the great lakes and the St. Lawrence. On their return they will be at-home in Susquehanna street, Wilkinsburg.

Two Hostesses in Oakmont.

Mrs. James M. Hamilton and her elder daughter, Miss Helen Hamilton, were joint hostesses at euchre yesterday afternoon at their home in Oakmont. Mrs. Hamilton and her daughter were assisted by a number of young girls, including Miss Annie Alexander, Miss Cora Lee, Miss Helen Crookston, Miss Mary Thomas and Miss Justine Wade. The eight tables were arranged on the porch and in the drawing room, and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. John Percy, Miss Edith Arensberg, Miss Margaret Tiers and Miss Hettie Martin. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns, white and green being the prevailing colors. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. O. L. Eaton of Hazelwood, Mrs. Paul Collier of Bellevue and Mrs. Sorbie of Williamsburg, the house guest of Mrs. M. Scott Verner.

Future Entertainments.

Mrs. J. M. Witherspoon of Oakmont has invitations out for a fancy work party on Friday afternoon at her home.

An event in which the younger members of Oakmont society are interested is the entertainment at which Miss Helen Crookston will be hostess on Tuesday afternoon. The affair will be a farewell for Miss Crookston, as she leaves early next month to resume her studies at St. Xavier's academy in Latrobe.

Home for a Few Dayys.

Mrs. John Fremont Shaffer of South Negley avenue is home for a few days from Clifton Park, where she opened her summer home early in the season. Mrs. Shaffer was accompanied by her little daughter, who will return to Clifton Park with her late this week. During September Mrs. Shaffer expects to visit St. Louis, and will possibly go farther west, keeping her summer home open meanwhile.

Lord and Lady Yarmouth Are Coming.

Mrs. William Thaw of Lyndhurst is expected home from Europe the latter part of the month. She will be accompanied by her son-in-law and daughter, Lord and Lady Yarmouth, who will remain in this city but a short time before going to Cresson for the remainder of the summer. The party of three will sail from Liverpool for New York on Friday, aboard the Celtic.

Entertainment Committee Will Meet.

The entertainment committee of the Wimodausis club will meet tomorrow in Syria temple to make arrangements for the second and final outing of the club this summer, at Kennywood park, on September 14. Mrs. Charles E. Smith is chairman of the committee. The proceeds of the affair will go into the club treasury and not to the building fund as on previous occasions.

Preparing for Golden Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Furlong of Duquesne are preparing to celebrate the golden anniversary of their wedding, which took place at Conemaugh, September 7, 1854. The Rev. Mr. Hildebrand, who performed the ceremony, is still living, and will be a guest at the celebration. Mr. Furlong is one of the best known citizens of Duquesne, having been burgess for several years.

Automobile Travelers Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Kennedy of Forbes street returned yesterday morning from Youngstown, where they had gone in their automobile on Saturday. They were accompanied by their sons, Julian Kennedy, Jr., and Thomas Kennedy, and by Joseph Kennedy of Buffalo.

Bigler-Murray.

CLEARFIELD, PA., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Hazzard A. Murray, a prominent young attorney, and Miss Marie Bigler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bigler, were married this evening at the home of the bride, by the Rev. M. K. Foster, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

FLOUR PRICES STILL SOARING

Highest Mark Here in Six Years, but Bread Will Not Go Up.

LOAVES NOT EVEN SMALLER

Flour is selling higher in Pittsburgh than at any time since the famous Leiter deal in 1898. Bread, however, will not be advanced on account of keen competition. The effect will be more business for bakers, because housewives are realizing that they now buy bread much cheaper than they can bake it.

George Ward, a prominent baker, said yesterday: "The high price of flour ought to affect our prices, but will not. Local conditions will prevent. We will not even diminish the size of loaves."

The latter statement is considered unusually good news, inasmuch as the impression has been very general that bakers had already made arrangements to meet the high prices of flour by using less.

Flour advanced again yesterday. Local jobbers announced an increase of 20 cents on spring and winter patents. The increases last week amounted to 20 cents and the change yesterday has lifted the price of springs to $6 per barrel and the price on winters as high as $5.80 per barrel.

"These figures are the highest since the Leiter boom," said J. A. Steele, a well known flour man, yesterday. "I remember that time well. Wheat went to $1.75 per bushel and dropped back to $1; flour followed, and present conditions recall vividly that period when wheat dropped suddenly, causing losses of from $2 to $3 on a single barrel of flour.

"The present situation has not been brought about by such speculation, however. It has been caused by reports of shortage in the winter wheat crop and because of reported damage to the wheat in Minnesota and the Dakotas, especially North Dakota. Some say that crops counted on for 15 and 20 bushels per acre will not yield more than five bushels."

H. V. Jones of Minneapolis, a high authority on the situation in the northwest, says that good estimates of crops in that section will be made about August 20. At about that time flour will go still higher or drop in price. The Leiter days put flour up to $8 and some jobbers look for prices nearly that high when the real damage from rust and frost become known.

Retailers of bread here have not advanced the price of five-cent loaves since the advance made on them by wholesalers about one month ago. That increase advanced the loaves to 4 cents straight and included an order to abolish the custom of taking back stale bread. The consumer has been profiting from this and from present reports bread eaters here will suffer in no wise from the present flour boom.

PLANS FOR NOTIFICATION OF POPULISTS' CANDIDATES

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The notification of the candidates of the People's party will take place at Cooper Union, New York, August 18, at noon. The members of the committee having the matter in charge are as follows: Judge Samuel W. Williams, Vincennes, Ind.; William V. Allen, ex-United States senator from Nebraska; L. H. Weller of Iowa; Paul J. Dickson of Missouri; T. A. Edmister of Nebraska, chairman of the state committee, and John Holloway of Illinois. Judge Williams will make the speech informing Mr. Watson of his nomination and Senator Allen will inform Mr. Tibbles. After the notification exercises an informal reception will be tendered the candidates at the Union Square hotel.

CATHOLIC YOUNG MEN IN NATIONAL CONVENTION

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 16.—The thirtieth annual convention of the Catholic Young Men's National Union convened here today. After mass Bishop Colton delivered an address of welcome. The delegates then marched to Catholic Institute hall, where addresses were delivered by the Rev. J. J. Murphy of the Boston archdiocese, on "American Education," and by Thomas Boylan of the Philadelphia archdiocese, on "Our Neighbor."

In Memoriam.

Resolutions adopted by the board of directors of the Farmers & Mechanics bank of Sharpsburg.

At the incorporation of the Farmers & Mechanics bank in 1879, the presidency of this institution was conferred upon George A. Chalfant, whose service in that position of trust continued until his death on Thursday, the 11th day of August, 1904.

Instinct and training both combined to fit him most eminently for a position demanding the very highest order of integrity and wisdom. His broad experience in large affairs of business always commanded respect, and his prudent counsel always found eager ears to listen and willing hands to do that which he deemed to be along the line of duty.

Ever patient and courteous in discussion, he reached conclusions deliberately and then clung to them with a tenacity that never swerved. As the presiding officer of the board and the principal executive officer of the bank, his identification with and service in behalf of this institution were of incalculable value and largely responsible for its success and standing in the financial world today.

We shall not only miss the sturdy figure, the generous glance, the hearty handclasp and the sunny disposition of our departed companion and counselor, but feel from this time forth that one of the stars that brightened our pathway through life is missing, and that a heart which always throbbed with the music of charity and good will for his fellow man has become silent.

But the philosophy of life bids us bear our loss with the same fortitude as hosts of others of his fellow men who loved him for the real nobility of his character.

GEORGE L. WALTER,
ROBERT M. COYLE,
THOMAS J. FORD,
Committee.

The Happy Home.

Happiness must be founded on health. Where there is ill-health there will surely be unhappiness. The happiness of many a home has received its downfall at the table, spread with rich and dainty foods. The first symptoms of disease of the stomach are ignored as being disagreeable but not dangerous. Presently dyspepsia or some other form of disease fastens on the stomach.

At any stage Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. But the cure is quicker if the "Discovery" is used in the earlier stages of disease. If you have any symptoms of diseased stomach use "Golden Medical Discovery" and be cured.

"I feel that I would be doing an injustice to you if I did not send you a statement of my case," writes Mrs. David W. Guice, of Hamburg, Franklin Co., Miss. "I had liver complaint and indigestion. Everything that I ate disagreed with me. I suffered all the time with swimming in my head; heart beat too fast; my feet and hands were cold all the time. Did not sleep well at all. Was able to get about but very little. I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets' in May, 1897, and by December I could begin to get about very well. Have been doing my work ever since. Feel better than I have for several years."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ANOTHER BOOM IN WHEAT BROUGHT REACTION IN STOCKS

Wheat Reached New High Prices, While Stocks Generally Closed at the Lowest—Local Stocks Dull But Steady.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

An overdue reaction in the New York stock market was accelerated yesterday by a fresh boom in wheat, which carried all options to the highest prices yet quoted. Grain markets were active and excited, and rather dominated the speculation for the day, although it must be noted that industrial stocks were as heavy as the railroads in the reaction which occurred late in the afternoon, which closed prices at practically the lowest of the day. The renewed advance in wheat was based upon fresh reports of damage in the northwest, particularly in the Dakotas, and the weekly bulletin of the weather bureau supplemented private investigation as to the nature of the damage. December wheat late in the session advanced to $1.05⅛ and closed at 105. May wheat advanced to $1.07 and closed at the top. Foreign markets also closed higher, but did not follow all the advance here, and are still out of line for export business. Still there was a slight increase in exports yesterday, which included 103,886 bushels wheat and flour and 122,842 bushels corn. Bradstreet's reported an increase of 1,393,000 bushels in the world's visible supply, of which 900,000 bushels represented the increase in Europe and afloat. The receipts of wheat at primary markets continued heavy, amounting to 923,000 bushels for the day, against 857,000 bushels for the corresponding day last year. Corn did not continue its advance of Monday, and sold off on reports of relief from the drought in the southwest. The government bulletin noted good progress for the crop, and where drought was reported, that condition has since been relieved by rain. The cotton market advanced slightly on the government reporting a deterioration in conditions during the week.

The stock market did not pay much attention to outside conditions during the early part of the day. Under the leadership of Union Pacific, which reached par for the first time this year, the railroad list was fairly strong and small gains were evenly distributed throughout the entire group. Rock Island securities were more active than for some time and advanced, mainly on the theory that they had not yet participated in the upward movement. London prices for American securities came strong, but foreigners were estimated to have sold about 30,000 shares, largely of Union Pacific, and to have bought 20,000 shares, principally of the Eries. Louisville & Nashville made a new high mark by advancing to 122½, but as a rule the railroad stocks did not reach the extreme high price of Monday. In the reaction which occurred late in the afternoon all stocks participated, and with the exception of Louisville & Nashville, Union Pacific and Rock Island, they all closed at net losses for the day.

United States Steel preferred was rather heavy throughout the day. The opening price at 59⅛ was the highest, and the subsequent decline carried the stock down to 58⅞, the close being at 59. There was a report that the executive committee of the corporation was holding a meeting, and it was surmised that it had something to do with the cut in billets and possibly with a revision of prices for finished products. This was only surmise, however, and no announcement of an official nature was made during market hours. Rather heavy selling of Sugar by one house broke the price of that stock from 133⅛ to 131¾, and was one of the incidents of the late dealings which helped along the reaction. There has been a great deal of bull talk on Sugar of late, but apparently the demand was not sufficient to absorb any large amount of stock. Amalgamated Copper opened at 54½ and closed at 53¼. The tractions were moderately active and Metropolitan advanced to 125⅝, but later sold off to 123½. Brooklyn Rapid Transit advanced to 54⅜, but reacted to and closed at 53⅝. There were no new developments in connection with the traction affairs, but the street continues bullish on this group of stocks.

There was no change in the money market. The National City bank will send $1,500,000 gold to Cuba tomorrow, and the National Bank of Commerce of New York will send a like amount on Saturday, making a total of $7,500,000, and leaving $2,500,000 on account of the $10,000,000 Cuban loan which will be shipped by August 27.

The local stock market was a dull and listless affair, prices being irregular. Westinghouse Electric rallied to 80⅛, the highest since the announcement of the treasury stock issue, but subsequently reacted to 79¾. Airbrake sold unchanged at 130. Only 25 shares Pittsburgh Coal preferred changed hands at 57, an advance of a dollar a share. None of the other coal stocks was dealt in. Harbison-Walker preferred advanced a dollar a share to 53½ and the common was firm at 6 bid. Crucible Steel preferred sold unchanged at 37 and the common was neglected. Manufacturers Light and Heat was a fraction higher, at 32½, and American Sewer Pipe a fraction lower at 21½, but closed at 21¾ bid. Consolidated Gas 5s were ½ per cent higher at 107½.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

In accounting for the failure of the Pittsburgh market to sympathize with the recent activity and advance in Wall street, one of the oldest brokers in the street remarked yesterday: "Any banking and brokerage house which asserts that it was not 'hung up' with a lot of poor accounts as a result of last fall's slump in values is either not telling the truth or was not in business. This city was hit very hard, and no one escaped the blow who was in the market. Some of our big men who often assume the leadership of market movements, suffered shrinkage in the market values of their holdings of both New York and Pittsburgh stocks. They could not realize on their holdings except at a great sacrifice, and believing in the future of the various properties, they held on. It has kept them 'poor' for the time being, but they are now beginning to see daylight. The rise in New York has turned many an account which showed a loss six months ago to the profit side, and Pittsburgh has been taking profits. The recovery here will be less rapid, because we have to depend upon ourselves. We cannot draw upon the speculative and investment interest of the country and Europe; but I have every confidence that a majority of our local companies which are now in the dumps will work out all right in the end. The outlook is certainly much brighter now than it was 10 years ago, when some of our best investment stocks were quoted at a heavy discount. I do not look for much change in August and September, but during the last quarter if trade expectations are realized, I do expect to see the public that is carrying local stocks beginning to buy to average holdings which in some instances cost double and treble present market values. I believe there are some stocks in our market which will be selling twice as high next year as they are selling now."

Only 25 shares coal stocks changed hands all day yesterday on the local board, but the tone was firmer, and Pittsburgh Coal preferred closed a dollar higher.

Crucible Steel preferred sold unchanged at 37 and the common was steady at 5½ bid, 5¾ asked. A stockholder who has been trying to learn something of the company's affairs remarked: "I do not know whether Crucible is making money or not, but if hard work by the executive officers counts for anything, then the company is making money, or getting into excellent shape to make money. The four chief officers of the company are putting in full day's work and working six days in the week, and the enterprise as a whole is probably receiving more careful attention now than at any previous time in its history."

A small lot of Pittsburgh Brewing preferred sold ex-dividend at 44⅝. The common stock declined a fraction to 24½ and closed offered at 24¾.

On the local board Marsden closed at 3⅜ bid, 3½ asked. In Philadelphia the stock closed at 3⅜ bid. One of the profitable products of the company is cellulose, which is used in the construction of warships. The events in the far east during the past few days should create a good demand for cellulose for new ships to take the place of those destroyed.

National Fireproofing preferred was unchanged at 28⅞, but Harbison-Walker preferred advanced a dollar a share to 53½.

American Sewer Pipe declined to 21½ and rallied to 21¾ bid. The bonds were firmer at 98½ bid.

Reader.—The charter of the Monongahela Water Company is perpetual, and the supreme court of this state has held that when a municipality gives to a private corporation the right to supply its citizens with water, it cannot subsequently resume the right and build water works in competition. The contract of the Monongahela Water Company with the city of Pittsburgh, however, expires next year or the year after. It is current opinion that when the city completes its filtration plant, it will purchase the Monongahela Water Company plant, and extend the filtration system to the South Side.

The net earnings of Ontario & Western for the June quarter decreased $40,884.

Chicago grain opinion: "Wheat started strong and remained so throughout the session. Minneapolis led all markets. The reports from North Dakota and Minnesota are growing worse daily. Snow wired in a very bullish statement from Polk county, Minn., and the government weekly bulletin was construed as bullish. These complaints have extended over too long a period of time and come from too good sources to warrant any doubt whatever of the seriousness of the situation in the spring wheat belt. Baseless statements would long since have been proven false. Wheat over $1 very naturally looks high, but still higher will rule. We think advantage should be taken of every weak day to buy. Liverpool cables were higher and the demand for cash wheat continues steady and regular. Southwestern receipts are still considerably larger than a year ago, but are no burden on the futures, as they go quickly into the hands of consumers. Cash wheat Minneapolis was up six cents."

A prominent Wall street house wired its Pittsburgh correspondent after the close of the market yesterday: "Directors of the United States Steel Corporation held conferences today but seemed to want the fact to remain secret. That some of them hurried back to town last night meant that they thought something important needed to be considered. We are told that they went over the entire subject of price cutting, with a view to taking steps to prevent any further demoralization. There is an element in the trade, one of these directors said this afternoon, which wants to break up the billet pool. The influence of the United States Steel Corporation is being brought to bear to prevent this. When it is remembered that smaller companies can sometimes make trouble in price reduction, it will perhaps be well to watch this situation and see what measures are taken to protect pools before buying many steel stocks. We are hopeful that the differences between the steel companies will be fixed up, but there is no certainty of this."

The Philadelphia News Bureau says: "The fact that the recent cuts in steel prices have had so little effect upon the stock market is a subject of much comment. It is said that the short interest in Steel preferred in Pittsburgh alone is not less than 200,000 shares. At the Duquesne club in Pittsburgh it is said that a heroic effort will be made before the presidential election to cover this line, for that reason, the best-posted steel men state that no one need be surprised to hear a flood of unfavorable reports as to the condition of the steel trade during the next few months."

The statement of our foreign commerce for July, issued yesterday, shows the smallest imports for any month since February, 1902, and the smallest exports for any July since 1898. The balance of trade, amounting to $13,759,911, was larger than for the corresponding month in the two preceding years. The following table shows the July imports and exports since 1897:

	Imports.	Exports.	Exc. Expts.
1897	$53,674,759	$71,103,968	$17,429,209
1898	50,984,381	72,525,049	21,540,668
1899	60,101,744	94,926,170	34,824,426
1900	63,659,692	100,452,807	36,793,115
1901	73,082,435	109,452,510	36,370,075
1902	79,147,874	88,790,627	9,642,753
1903	82,187,823	91,813,265	9,625,442
1904	71,123,520	84,883,431	13,759,911

Union Pacific reached par yesterday for the first time this year, which represented a net recovery of 29 per cent from the low price of last March. The earnings of the company for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1904, were equal to about 12½ on the outstanding common stock. The report for 1903 showed a surplus available for dividends on the common stock amounting to about $11,300,000, equal to 10.3 per cent on the $108,770,900 common stock and equal to about 7½ per cent on the common stock and convertible bonds. The gain in net earnings last year amounted to $2,706,962. There was an increase in fixed charges amounting to $500,000 on account of the $10,000,000 5 per cent notes issued July, 1903, but as the money is understood to have been loaned to Southern Pacific, other income should show a corresponding increase. Allowing for a small increase in fixed charges, the surplus for the common in 1903-4 may be estimated at $13,800,000, or $2,500,000 more than in 1902-3. This is equal to about 12½ per cent on the $108,770,900 common stock at present outstanding. The convertible bonds outstanding amount to $87,257,000, the interest on which at 4 per cent is $3,460,280 per annum. Adding this interest to the surplus for the common last year, the total earnings available for the $196,027,900 convertible bonds and common stock taken together amount to $17,260,000, equal to about 9 per cent.

Interior exchanges are turning gradually against New York, foreshadowing the crop moving demand for money, but the New York money market is totally unruffled as yet.

Gross earnings of Allegheny Valley for June decreased $93,948, expenses increased $20,250, and net earnings decreased $114,198. For the half year, net earnings decreased $439,251.

In the New York bond market yesterday prices were irregular. There were sharp reactions in the Central of Georgia Incomes. United States 2s advanced ⅛, the 3s registered and the new 4s registered ¼ and the old 4s ½, while the new 4s coupon declined ⅛ per cent on call.

The Bond Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Government bonds closed strong; the ½ point advance in bids for the 4s of 1907 was the most important change in quotations. In the general bond market Rock Island collaterals continued to show a fair degree of strength; Consolidated Tobacco 4s, Ft. Worth & Rio Grande 4s and San Antonio & Aransas Pass 4s were in good demand; St. Louis & San Francisco refunding 4s, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 4s and Union Pacific convertible 4s held firm; Steel sinking fund 5s receded fractionally; Central Georgia incomes were reactionary. STOCKS ARE AFFECTED BY CROP CONDITIONS

Trading Fell Off in Volume in Wall Street and Market Closed Weak.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—The Herald this (Wednesday) morning says: Stock market sentiment was visibly affected yesterday by the attitude taken by the grain experts in regard to the progress of the crops. Hitherto when the sensational advances were reported in the grain markets, there was a decided disposition to explain the gains on the theory that professional tactics were responsible and not the intrinsic conditions. This theory of the advance is still held in Wall street, but the influence of steady and substantial advances, reaching the highest prices of the season, coupled with reports of further damage to the wheat crop from rust throughout the northwest and Manitoba, undoubtedly had a deterring effect on the spread of bullish enthusiasm in stock circles. As a result, prices were hesitant and after an early exhibition of strength continued weak until the close. Trading fell off in volume, too, and in the afternoon there were protracted periods of dullness.

Interest displayed in the crop situation was probably the paramount feature of the market. Next was the critical situation in the iron and steel trade. The lagging movement in Steel shares on the previous day, when enthusiasm ran rampant, attracted a great deal of attention, but it did not create the comment which the decline in the preferred stock brought forth yesterday. It was evident that there was more of a disposition to conservatively weigh the industrial situation, particularly in regard to steel and iron. Leakage and inside information of the actual condition of the steel business and the purposes of the various companies to disregard pool prices in the immediate future undoubtedly was responsible for the selling movement yesterday. The weakness in the Steel shares, coupled with the gradual belief that damage may have been done not only the wheat crop, but the corn crop, made the cautious trader anxious to take profits and await developments.

There were persistent rumors of price cutting in the iron and steel trade, and it subsequently developed that there was a basis for these reports. According to the best information, the word has gone forth among the salesmen of the Steel Corporation to obtain business, disregarding pool prices. Naturally lower prices will materially affect the earnings and this consideration in turn induced discussion as to the maintenance of preferred dividends on the Steel Corporation shares. Insiders were reported heavy sellers of the stock.

COLORED SCHOOL SEIZED.

Sheriff Takes Charge of the Institution Founded by the Rev. George W. Kincaid.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Aug. 16.—Special.—The property of the Western Pennsylvania Colored Industrial school, four miles north of here, has been seized by Sheriff Ayers on an execution of $3,887.57, issued by Matthew S. Irwin. The seizure includes even the grain in the fields. Unless the funds are rapidly forthcoming, the institution will be permanently closed.

It was founded about two years ago by the Rev. George W. Kincaid to afford a place for training colored young men and women in the trades and domestic sciences. About $4,000 is needed to clear off the mortgages upon the property.

GERMAN ENGINEERS WILL STUDY AMERICAN BUILDINGS

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—A party of German engineers, headed by Herr Schultz, under secretary of state in the ministry of public works, who will study municipal and other engineering and building problems in the large cities in this country, arrived here today on the steamer Kronprinz Wilhelm.

PENNSYLVANIA EXPECTS BIG WORLD'S FAIR MOVEMENT

What promises to be the largest movement out of this district to the world's fair will take place tomorrow. The Pennsylvania will run another of its $12 round trip excursions, and the fact that Saturday is Pennsylvania day at the fair will draw hundreds from this territory to St. Louis. On Friday the state delegation will go to the fair on a special train.

Arrangements were completed yesterday for the movement of the special train which will convey Gov. Pennypacker and staff. It will be made up of a baggage car, two diners, four 10-section drawing room cars, two 10-section stateroom cars and one 10-section observation car. The train will leave Philadelphia tomorrow at 12:20 p. m. and will arrive in Pittsburgh at 10 o'clock p. m. It will reach St. Louis Friday morning at 8 o'clock. Returning, the train will leave the fair city next Tuesday.

Adjt.-Gen. Thomas J. Stewart will have charge of the military portion of the delegation and Henry F. Walton will lead the legislative body. Gen. John A. Wiley will act as chief marshal of the parade.

The railroad officials are confident the movement will be the largest of the season. The tickets thus far sold will necessitate the running of several special trains. The low rates are good from all points in this district west of Pittsburgh.

Vanderbilt System Named.

It is no longer the Vanderbilt system. The correct official title of the great aggregation of railroads in the east and west controlled by Vanderbilt interests, it is officially announced, is now the New York Central system. Like the far-spreading Pennsylvania system these Vanderbilt lines are geographically divided into eastern and western sections, with Buffalo as the central point.

The designation of this entire group of railroads as the New York Central system is W. K. Vanderbilt's own idea, and it is the natural outcome of the scheme of consolidation which has been going on for the past two years, and has very recently reached an important stage in the unification of the financial departments of the different railroads. This system comprises more than 15,000 miles of main tracks.

Another Retrenchment Ordered.

The Pennsylvania railroad has made another large reduction in its shop forces. It was announced yesterday at Altoona that 200 more men will be dropped within the next week. This action is taken after a meeting of the general manager and officers of the maintenance of way departments last week. The motive department has practically suspended operations for August and September, and all locomotives turned out are being placed in the yards for future use. The company placed no orders for locomotives within the last three months and no repair work will be done until the regular winter work begins.

Automatic Airbrake Device.

William Williams, a Pennsylvania railroader, of Huntingdon, has been granted a patent on an airbrake system for railroad cars. It is an equalizing system, that is, each car in a train is to receive a pressure of air as its weight may demand—a heavily loaded car receives the full pressure, a lightly loaded one a lower pressure, and empties air sufficient to check them and no more—all to be operated automatically.

Better Service for Wilmerding.

Commencing today Wilmerding will be a regular stop for trains No. 8, due at that station at 8 a. m. This is one of the fastest trains on the road, making only three stops, Greensburg, Latrobe and Johnstown, before reaching Altoona. It will be a great convenience to McKeesport and other patrons of the Pennsylvania railroad, they being able to secure Pullman accommodations on this train.

Railroad Notes.

E. B. Taylor, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, is home from his European trip.

J. J. Turner, third vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, left yesterday on a fishing trip to the lakes.

A. P. Boller, consulting engineer of the Wabash, is in the city conferring with Vice President J. W. Patterson.

R. L. O'Donnell, general superintendent of the Buffalo & Allegheny Valley, is making an inspection of the line today.

It is reported that E. A. Niel, general freight agent of the Southern railway, has resigned. L. Green, now assistant freight agent, has been appointed Neil's successor.

H. A. Sharpe, S. A. Walker, C. E. Hill, J. W. Boyle and James Aitken, stenographers in the executive offices of the Pennsylvania lines west, comprised a fishing party which returned from a lake trip yesterday.

The Pennsylvania railroad is contemplating running a special train to the world's fair on which will be mechanical engineers employed by the company. The company will take them to study the mechanical exhibits.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at a decline of 5 points on May and unchanged on later positions, or rather better than due on the showing of the European cables, which were affected so it was claimed, by reassuring Brazilian reports as to the extent of damage from frost. Later a leading trade interest now abroad cabled that the crop prospects were more favorable owing to rain in the interior and prices here sagged off about 10@15 points. But Havre rallied slightly before her close and with private cables coming from Brazilian sources reporting unfavorably on the crop prospect, the market recovered most of the loss. But demand was not so aggressive as of late, and toward the close lower firm offers from Brazil again weakened the market, which was finally steady at a net decline of 5@10 points. Sales were reported of 110,500 bags, including September at 6.65c; October at 6.65@6.75c; December at 6.85@6.95c; January at 6.95@7.05c; March at 7.15@7.25c; May at 7.30@7.45c and July at 7.50@7.60. Coffee—Spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice, 8 3-16c; mild steady; Sugar—Raw firm; refined firm.

FINE RESIDENCE ON WOODED HILL

William Walker Is Erecting a Handsome Home on Sewickley Heights.

RECENT BUILDING PROJECTS

Sewickley Heights is the scene of one of the most interesting building operations witnessed in that aristocratic section for years, and which is going forward almost unknown to the general public. The building is the residence of William Walker of the Harbison Refractories company on the heights about midway between Shields and Leetsdale stations. Last year Mr. Walker bought from George and W. J. Tener 60 acres of the old Tener property at the point where the Little Sewickley leaves the Beaver road. The land was heavily wooded with large timber and covered with a thick growth of undergrowth of all kinds. On the hill, 400 feet above the Beaver road and commanding a splendid view of the Sewickley valley, Mr. Walker cleared five acres in the midst of the densest forest for a site for his residence. Only those trees which would be in the way of the residence, stable and garden were cut down. Many of these were massive oaks, and to make use of them a portable sawmill was set up on the land and the great trees sawed into timbers for the buildings. The walls of the house itself, which is a modification of the Dutch style of architecture, are being laid of stone quarried on the farm. A stone stable has already been built. The residence was designed by Architects Alden and Harlow, and will be, when completed, April 1, 1905, one of the most unique and attractive of the heights' homesteads. A private road leads down from it through the woods to the Little Sewickley road, and near the handsome home of J. G. Pontefract. The house and grounds will be finished in keeping with the other costly residences in the neighborhood. This is the only large house building project in that district this summer.

School House for Morganza.

Bids will be asked today by the E. M. Butz Company on the school house to be erected at Morganza, which will cost about $40,000, will be a two-story brick, 54x104 feet, and will stand near the other school buildings of the institution. It will contain eight school rooms and have in the basement a gymnasium with baths of all kinds and a running track. Heat and power will be supplied from the plant which supplies the other buildings.

Architect W. A. Thomas has awarded the contract to B. F. Brown for two center-hall brick houses of 12 rooms each to be built for Mrs. Sarah J. Lingo at the southwest corner of Murry avenue and Bryson street, Twenty-second ward. Work on the houses will start today, and they will cost $15,000 each. The same architect let the contract to Joseph Page for an eight-room residence for Alexander McCracken at Howard and St. Clair streets.

Two $20,000 contracts have been awarded recently. One was for the bank and office building of the First National bank of East Brady, which will be built by the Ajax Construction Company of this city. The other contract, which was secured by Fred Schuette of Homestead, was for the three-story building of the East Pittsburgh Turnverein, to be erected in Electric avenue. The building will contain a large hall and store rooms on the first floor.

Architect F. C. Sauer has plans for a two-story office building for the Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company to be erected at Leetsdale.

Architect William Young Brady has let the contract for four houses to be built for the McKinley Park Improvement Company in Michigan street, Thirty-eighth ward, at a cost of $12,000.

Looking to Lower Avenues.

The purchase by Kaskel Solomon through the Freehold Real Estate Company of the Moorhead holdings in Water street for $190,000 was the main topic of discussion in real estate circles yesterday. No deal for months has occasioned more comment, for it is the first sale of importance in Water street for three years, as well as the first deal for a long time in the Ross street neighborhood. Investors are gradually waking up to the growing importance of the lots along Water street, many of which are now improved with dilapidated structures that are not worth the cost of tearing down. When the extensive improvements of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, including a $1,000,000 station, are completed, property in Water street will be much more desirable than now for business sites, and its nearness to the business center will make it an attractive proposition for investors. It is the general opinion of real estate brokers that Water street and the lower avenues offer a much better field for profitable investments now than any other quarter of the city, and the big warehouses that are going up in this section add greatly to the desirability of the sites for wholesale purposes. With Fifth avenue prices at their present height, investors have little to hope for in the way of rapid advancement in values. The same is true in a large measure of several other prominent downtown thoroughfares, where the present rentals do not pay more than 2 per cent on the investment. With the purchase and building up of many lots along the lower avenues there is likely to come a substantial advance in values there within two years at most.

Building Boom in Beaver.

Beaver is just now experiencing a very tidy building boom. The United Presbyterians have recently started their $40,000 church at the southwest corner of the public park. The new Methodist Episcopal church is being erected in College avenue, near Beaver college, at a cost of $60,000. The Beaver Realty Company has just started 10 houses on the old fair grounds property in the east end of town, to cost $5,000 each. Mrs. Anna E. Kirtland has under way a $15,000 brick and stone residence near the east end of Third street which was planned by Architects Hogdens & Burns of this city. Q. Hamilton is building a fine house in College avenue. At least 30 other houses are going up in the town, many of which are a decided addition to its list of tasty homes.

The old fair grounds property is being made into one of the prettiest suburbs of Beaver. The property, about 40 acres, was bought several years ago by the Beaver Realty Company and was graded last year. Wide streets have been put through it and now cement sidewalks are being laid over the entire property. The lots are large and the kind of houses going up are making the place an attractive spot for home seekers.

Transactions in Realty.

Edward A. McCabe has purchased from Patrick Flannigan 100x90 feet at the southeast corner of Dearborn and Evaline streets, Nineteenth ward, for $11,000.

S. R. Dibert has sold to Hugh Wilson a residence property, 25x102 feet, in the north side of Hedge avenue, Twenty-First ward, for $10,500.

One of the E. M. Butz residences in Euclid avenue, Bellevue, has been purchased by a local business man for $10,000. The house is one of four recently completed and stands on 50x150 feet near Lincoln avenue. It is a 10-room center hall brick dwelling and was bought for a home.

Meyran avenue: M. J. Ehrenfeld sold for Herman Linde to L. Heller 320 Meyran avenue, a nine-room brick house on 122x140 feet, for $6,400.

Lowell street: John Sheran has bought the Fleming lot, 50x100 feet, at Lowell and Mayflower streets, for $5,500, and will improve it with four brick houses.

Conner, 50x20 feet in the north side of Frankstown avenue, same ward, for $2,250 and to George W. Ely 25x120 feet in the same street for $1,125.

Homewood avenue: The heirs of Alice Watson sold to Samuel L. Cuddy an improved lot, 25x100 feet, in the east side of Homewood avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $3,750.

Flowers avenue: Joseph Hanna sold to John D. Sweeney seven lots in Flowers avenue and Graphic street, Twenty-third ward, for $2,250.

Crombie street: S. M. Willock sold to Peter S. Froener 25x100 feet in Crombie street near Beechwood avenue, Twenty-second ward, for $1,675.

Cedar street: J. Fehr sold to Aloys Kuenzig an improved lot, 20x120 feet in the south side of Cedar street, Sixteenth ward, for $2,000.

The Allegheny bureau of building inspection yesterday issued the following permits: To S. A. Copeland, brick three-story apartment house at Perrysville and Wilson avenues, Second ward, to cost $26,000; to William Speith, frame two-story and attic dwelling on Observatory avenue near Clinton avenue, Second ward, to cost $3,500.

The Liberty Real Estate Trust Company has sold all the lots in its Thirty-seventh ward plan of lots. This plan was opened to the public on July 23. Many purchasers are starting to build residences.

FLOUR STILL HIGHER; COFFEE JUMPS AGAIN

Crop Shortages Play General Havoc—Rockyfords Bring Record Price.

An advance of 20 cents on spring and winter patent flours was announced by local jobbers late yesterday afternoon, but the demand here is not heavy, buyers showing a disposition to hold off in anticipation of a drop. Coffee advanced 50 cents per hundred yesterday. Shortage in the Brazilian crop is responsible for the high price. There were no further quotable changes in the grocery business and dealers are now pretty optimistic.

The first Rockyford cantaloupes of the season arrived yesterday and brought as high as $2 per basket. The stock will be here in good quantity by the end of the week. Peaches are still good property and are showing much strength over last week. Watermelons have been holding their own better here than they have at any time in years. Last year the market suffered from shipments on commission. The stock is being bought outright this season. Onions are easier; so are sweet potatoes. Cream cheese is looking up and eggs continue very firm. Hens are scarce and command good prices.

Hay is pretty firm and new timothy is advanced. Oats are quoted lower all around. Corn is advanced, No. 2 yellow shelled offering at 63c and No. 2 yellow ear, offering at 64 cents. Rye straw is quoted lower and so are wheat and oats straw. Bran is higher again, very little coming in. Arrivals now consist of oats, hay and straw almost entirely.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

Receipts bulletined: Pennsylvania, 36 cars oats, 9 cars straw, 6 cars hay, 3 cars corn, 3 cars feed. Baltimore & Ohio: 4 cars oats, 3 cars hay, 6 cars straw. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars oats.

Dealers charge an advance of from 5 to 10 cents per ton on hay and 3 cents per ton on grain and millfeed from warehouses in less than carload lots.

FAILURE TO ADVANCE THE PRODUCING LINES

All efforts to advance the producing lines of the Big Lime development, near Milton, Cabell county, are proving failures. Operators have made explorations in all directions from the present production and the result in every instance has been dusters or light gassers. Two new tests have just been added to the list of failures.

Three miles northwest of the No. 1 on the E. W. Beckett farm, on Dry creek, Grant district, the Latonia Oil Company has drilled its test on the E. S. Jacks farm through the Berea grit and has given it a shot. Nothing came of it but a light showing of oil and gas in the Berea. It will not make a paying producer. On Charleys creek, in the same district, the Stonewall Oil Company has drilled its test on the J. A. Reece farm through the Big Lime and has a duster. The daily production of the 11 producing wells in the development remains at 240 barrels, despite the fact that three of the wells have been shot within the past few days.

In the Yellow creek development, Calhoun county, several new wells have been drilled through the sand. In the north end of the pool the Eastern Oil Company has drilled its second test on the Klipstein farm through the Maxon sand and has a show for a 60-barrel producer. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the Camden-Sommers farm through the Berea grit and has a show for a 20-barrel producer. The same company's No. 1 on the R. E. Gardner farm is producing 140 barrels a day and the Guaranty Oil Company's No. 4 on the W. W. Knight farm is producing 100 barrels a day. With the drilling in of the test on the Klipstein farm the upper end of the development has three Maxon sand producers.

In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 5 on the G. W. Soles farm into the top of the stray and has developed no oil or gas. The Philadelphia company has drilled its No. 7 on the J. K. Anderson farm through the Gordon and it produced 52 barrels the first 24 hours.

On the east side of the Folsom district, Harrison county, the South Penn has completed its second test on the Effie Shrader farm and the hole stands full of fluid. In the same district the same company has shot its No. 8 on the Acena Talkington farm and the hole has filled up 3,000 feet with fluid.

In the Smithfield district the South Penn's No. 7 on the B. W. Peterson farm, an old Big Injun well drilled down to the fourth sand, is now completed and producing 15 barrels a day. The test on the E. Z. Horner farm has been drilled into the Gordon and has filled up 800 feet with fluid. It will make a small pumper.

In the Pine Grove extension the South Penn has drilled its test on the Wiley-Blake farm through the sand and the hole has filled up 600 feet with fluid. It will be given a shot.

On First run, Ellsworth district, Tyler county, the South Penn has drilled its second test on the O. P. W. Stealey farm through the Big Injun and found nothing. A small showing of oil was developed in the Keener and it will be shot and tested in that formation.

In the Garner district, Marshall county, the Hope Natural Gas Company has completed its test on the J. B. Clark farm and has a light gasser. In the Mannington district, Marion county, the same company has completed a test on the McKeown-Hamilton farm and has a small gasser in the fifth sand. In the same district the test on the Elizabeth Ashcroft is showing for a light gasser in the 50-foot sand. It is still drilling.

On the Ohio side in the shallow sand territory on Wolf creek, more good producers have been drilled in and development work is very active. While the new wells now drilling in the sand or completed are not so large as the first wells completed in this district, they are much better than those found in any of the other shallow sand districts.

The Hastings Oil Company and the South Petroleum Company have drilled in their No. 11 on the G. E. Morris farm and have a show for a 100-barrel producer. A. Girard & Co. have drilled in their No. 9 on the Otis Cody farm and have a show for a 50-barrel producer. A. J. Lockard & Co. have completed Nos. 13 and 14 on the G. E. Morris farm. The first is good for 10 barrels a day and the last is a duster. The Muskingum Oil Company has completed its No. 15 on the Alexander Martin farm and has a 25-barrel producer.

A. Girard & Co.'s Nos. 1 to 8, inclusive, on the Otis Cody farm, are producing 480 barrels a day. E. H. Jennings & Bros. and Selby's Nos. 6 to 13, inclusive, are producing 150 barrels a day. The Hastings Oil Company and the South Petroleum Company's Nos. 9 and 10 on the G. E. Morris farm are holding up at 140 barrels a day.

Near Langs station, Monroe county, the National Production Company has shot its old Berea grit gasser, on the E. J. Platt farm, drilled about four years ago and since exhausted. The well was shot in the Maxon sand and is showing for a 5-barrel pumper.

West of Empire, Jefferson county, and located northwest of the pool, the American Oil Development Company has completed its No. 3 on the E. J. Peacher farm and has a duster in the Berea grit. Owing to this test being dry it shows that there is little use to look farther than present defined limits for an extension to the northwest.

In the Mt. Morris district, Greene county, Pa., Jesse L. Garard has drilled his No. 21 on the Corbley Gregg farm through the sand and has a duster.

WHEAT SCORES NEW HIGH RECORD AT 105

Wave of Dispatches Grew in Calamitous Suggestions During the Day.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—A new high record for the season was scored today, in wheat. The market closed strong at practically the top with gains of 2¼@2⅝c net. Corn is off ¼@⅜c. Oats are ⅛c down to ⅛c up. Provisions vary from 17½c loss to 2½c gain.

The rise in wheat prices came with great waves of buying throughout the day, the accompaniments of dispatches received, each increasingly calamitous in suggestion of ruin to the spring wheat. According to the dispatches current, the prospect of enough for bread and seed appeared to be a mere sickly glimmer. The markets of the northwest cut a wide swath in price-making. Minneapolis was not only up sensationally, but the number of buying orders sent from there were larger than for several weeks past. Crop news from some of the experts who are now going over that country were worse than ever before, and the manner in which the buying orders came in showed apparently that many sections will likely prove heavy losers. There was more or less talk of damage in Manitoba by rust, but from that section the reports were conflicting. A special from Winnipeg called attention to the fact that wheat is being cut there in many localities under best conditions, and that the damage reports are unwarranted. The popular movement in wheat was to buy the May and sell September. The market opened with sales at $1 03½ to $1 03⅛ for September, sold to $1 03⅝ to $1 03 to $1 04½ to $1 03½ to $1 04¾, to $1 03⅞, to $1 05¼, and closed at $1 05@1 05⅛.

The reason for yesterday's strength in corn was washed out by rains that had fallen meantime in the places which it was said the day before must have rain or suffer permanent injury to the crop. It might perhaps have gone worse with the price if the wheat market had been less strong. The feeling was one of nervousness up to the last. There was profit-taking on the hard spots, checking the advances and causing the setback. The local crowd sold corn freely early on the scattered rains in Kansas, but were buyers later on advices from Illinois, Missouri and Kansas, that corn was "firing." September opened at 54¼c to 54c, sold to 54½c, to 53⅝c, to 54⅛c, to 53⅝c, to 54c, closing at 54¼c.

Prices for oats advanced ¼@½c, but reacted and closed ⅛c lower to ¼c higher. The feature was increased trading in May which was bought extensively by commission houses. This met heavy selling, for profits and prices receded. September opened at 34¼c to 34½c, sold to 34⅛c to 34⅝c, to 34¼c, to 34¼@34⅜c, at the close.

After a strong opening in sympathy with advances in hogs and wheat, the market for provisions weakened on heavy selling of ribs and pork. Lard, however, did not participate to any extent in the declining tendency of the other commodities, being upheld by buying for foreign account on a fairly liberal scale. The market closed steady with September pork 17½c down, September lard 2½c up and September ribs off 12½@15c.

Southern Wheat Advances.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 16.—For the first time since last March the price of southern wheat touched $1 a bushel today. The advance has been in sympathy with the strength in western wheat together with a good demand and relative light receipts. The market this morning opened strong, No. 2 red selling at $1, an advance of 2½c a bushel over the sales of yesterday. Steamer No. 2 red sold today at 94½c a bushel, and "rejected" at 85c a bushel. The market for western was also firmer today, due to reports of the spreading of rust. Southern wheat is now 18½c a bushel higher than at this time last year. The market for southern corn was also firm today. One lot of yellow was received which sold by sample at 66c a bushel.

Visible Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies, as compared with last account: Wheat, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increase, 43,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increase, 900,000 bushels; total supply, increase, 1,393,000 bushels. Corn, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, decrease, 1,178,000 bushels. Oats, United States and Canada, east of Rockies, increase, 2,420,000 bushels. The leading increases reported by Bradstreets this week include 184,000 bushels at the Chicago private elevators, 135,000 bushels at Ft. Worth, 123,000 bushels at Nashville, and 86,000 bushels at Sioux Falls. Stocks in Manitoba decreased 121,000 bushels. Large movement on track (not counted) into Chicago private elevators.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

It is expected that within 30 days the Transvaal Copper Mining Company, in the Moctezuma district of Sonora, Mexico, will begin production. The property is owned by Cincinnati capitalists, although Pittsburghers have taken a considerable interest in it, and about $1,000,000 has been spent in development work. A reverberatory smelter is now being erected at the Buckeye mine, a copper, silver and lead property owned by the Transvaal. It is the intention ultimately to erect a large smelting plant with a capacity of at least 500 tons a day. This will be located on the Cumpas river a short distance from the various mines of the company, and carry the ores by rail to the reduction works. A concentrator of 1,000 tons daily capacity will also be installed in connection with the big smelter. It is estimated that the Transvaal has millions of tons of medium grade ore in sight, while the ore in the Buckeye mine is of high grade.

Strikes of splendid ore occurred last Saturday in the Gold Dollar, Prince Albert, Gold Sovereign and Gold King. On the sixth level of the Gold Dollar lessees broke into three and one-half feet of ore that is very rich. While the others are of more than ordinary importance, details are not yet at hand.

The Spearfish Mining Company of Colorado Springs has declared its monthly dividend of one-half a cent a share. The company is now treating 300 tons of ore daily, which is the next largest capacity to the Homestake company. According to the amount of ore blocked out at the mine, the reserve will last seven or eight years. It is claimed by the company that an extraction of 90 per cent is being made by the cyanide process.

The Grand Central of Tintic has passed its August dividend. It is the intention of the company to do considerable exploratory work and this is the reason the dividend was passed.

The Fairview mine, located in the Silver Crown district 25 miles west of Cheyenne, is to be sunk to a depth of 1,000 feet at once. This will make the shaft, which now is 157 feet in depth, the deepest in the state, and will determine, once and for all time, the destiny of the district, which has proven a puzzler to mining men for 20 years because of the elusive character of its veins. The Fairview is owned by the Fairview Mining Company, a Colorado corporation, and is one of the oldest mines in the district.

During the month of July the gross production made from the property of the United Mines Company at Cripple Creek, amounted to $50,916 19. The average value of the ore was $44 a ton. From the Deadwood group the production amounted to only $9,150 01, the ore averaging $68 28 a ton.

The Silver King of Park City, Utah, will distribute $100,000 among stockholders this month, making the eighth dividend this year.

LARKIN GIVES HAYS WARNING

Notifies Mayor That City Funds Will Run Out on November 1.

RETURNS BANK AGREEMENTS

Controller Larkin gave the administration formal notice, by a letter to Mayor Hays yesterday, that the city's funds are running short and at the present rate of expenditures will be exhausted November 1, or three months before the end of the fiscal year. The controller estimates the deficiency will be about $400,000, and it may be larger. The controller is keeping close tab on the appropriations and whenever an appropriation is exhausted he will refuse to countersign warrants for it.

He will not issue warrants on money that the administration might borrow from the banks to meet a deficiency. This was the practice until Larkin became controller, and since then the administration has been prevented from borrowing money from the banks at 5 per cent interest—the same banks from which the city gets but 2 per cent on its deposits. The controller's letter to Mayor Hays yesterday was as follows:

Departments Must Economize.

Dear Sir: I beg to call your attention to the fact that a careful review of receipts and expenditures to August 1, of the present fiscal year, and an equally careful estimate of the months to follow, indicates that the money on hand, with such revenue as may be properly anticipated, will at present rate of expenditure be exhausted about November 1.

In this estimate provision has been made for fixed charges, including education and the contracts charged against appropriations. This leaves three months, possibly two and one-half months, of the fiscal year unprovided for, as article VIII, act of 1901, stipulates that warrants cannot be countersigned or paid unless sufficient funds out of which said warrant is payable shall actually be in the treasury at the time. I, therefore, deem it my duty to advise that you call the attention of the department heads to present conditions, and advise such economies as are prudent and consistent with public welfare.

The controller also refused yesterday to place on file in his office the agreements and bonds of the four newly chosen city depositories for the four years beginning February 1, 1905. The controller has declared that the resolution appointing these depositories is illegal and that he will go into court to prevent the city's funds being transferred to them. He has been advised by his attorney not to give the agreements and bonds any official recognition, and for this reason, when the city clerk sent them to him to be filed, he returned them to the city clerk with a letter stating that if the agreements are held to be contracts they should be filed and registered in the office of the mayor, according to the new charter act of 1901.

Hassler Replies to Larkin.

City Clerk Hassler said yesterday that the agreements were not contracts, and, therefore, he would not send them to the mayor. He said they would be kept on file in the city clerk's office. Hassler made reply to Larkin in the following letter:

Dear Sir: I have received your communication of this date, returning four agreements and four bonds of banks selected by councils as city depositories. In your communication you say: "If these documents are held to be contracts, then under article 15 of the act for the government of cities of the second class, approved March 7, 1901, they should be filed and registered in the office of the mayor."

I take it that the four bonds cannot be held, under any circumstances, to be contracts, and it seemed to me that they should be filed with the controller as the overseer of the city's financial affairs. I also transmitted to you the agreements, for your custody, because I did not understand them to be contracts. If they are contracts they should undoubtedly be filed with the mayor. They are termed agreements. The former agreements and bonds of the city depositories are filed in the office of the controller.

To a contract there are two parties, in all municipal affairs the city on the one part and some person, firm or corporation on the other, and by the terms of the contract each party agrees to do certain things. This is not the case with the agreements in question. By these documents the bank, in each case, agrees to pay 2 per cent interest to the city for all money deposited, and to lend money to the city at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. The city agrees or contracts to do nothing. The preamble to the agreements recites the fact that certain ordinances provide for the deposit of city money, but the city is in no way a party to the agreements in hand.

Making this distinction between a contract and an agreement, I transmitted the papers to you, and I make this explanation that you may understand my position and motives in the matter.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 16.—(Special.)—Bishop Vincent in his talk on the "Mastery of Blood" maintained that blood will tell and that even after persistent striving to overcome evil tendencies which have been inherited it is only through the atonement of Jesus Christ that we are purified.

The Rev. Hugh Black of Scotland gave his second lecture of the series and spoke of "Culture of Mind." He spoke of the necessity of refraining from too much culture of the mind to the detriment of the body and soul.

Dr. J. M. Buckley of the Christian Advocate spoke at length on "Plagiarism, Sermonic and Literary." He said he knew something about plagiarism as he had once been charged with plagiarizing from an encyclopedia and that his only defense had been that he wrote the article in the encyclopedia. He continued:

"The subject of plagiarism is not a new one. A large proportion of papers submitted to editors show they are mere patch-work of literary works. An unpublished sermon is not literature. Perhaps it would not be if it were published. All sermons published are literature, but an oratorical sermon is not. Plagiarist originally meant kidnaper; it has come to mean one who steals literary productions of others and claiming them. It sounds like a good definition but it is worthless until we decide what a man's literary productions are. A man's words and arrangements of words, thoughts and arrangements of thoughts may be considered his productions and the using of them by another without giving the credit of them to the author is plagiarism. A man who will steal a sermon has other moral obliquities. An honest man is honest all around."

Dr. Buckley concluded by telling of ministers of nearly every denomination who have been found guilty of plagiarism. He named Milton, Dryden, Pope and Addison as famous literary men who have been found guilty of the same deed and cited John J. Ingalls as the case among the senators.

The new hall of philosophy was informally opened this afternoon when addresses were made by Dr. George Vincent, Dr. Hickman, president of the board of trustees; Dr. Hurlbut and by Bishop Vincent.

The grounds were especially pretty this evening in holiday dress of lanterns and lights. The promenade concert was enjoyed by thousands of Chautauquans, while hundreds of visitors from various points of the lake came to the grounds early in the evening to enjoy the picturesque beauty of the "feast of lanterns."

SLATE FIRMS COMBINE TO LIMIT PRODUCTION

MANCHESTER, VT., Aug. 16.—A number of the leading slate producing firms in this section of Vermont and Northern New York have entered into a combination in an effort to improve the business which at present is said to be very dull. The combination embraces 10 of the leading firms and a number of smaller concerns. They agree to limit production to 300,000 squares of roofing slate annually for a period of five years. This involves an aggregate business of about $1,250,000. The company will be called the American Pea Green Slate Co., and is chartered under the laws of New York.

MRS. FLORENCE MAYBRICK WILL NOT BE DETAINED

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—When Mrs. Florence Maybrick arrives in New York on the steamer Vaterland next Saturday, she will be extended every possible courtesy by the immigration officials, and no objection to her landing will be made on the ground that she is an alien or one convicted of felony abroad. Orders to that effect from Washington reached Ellis Island today. Previous to the arrival of Commissioner of Immigration Franklin D. Sargent's letter of instruction, Assistant Commissioner of Immigration Joseph Murray announced that he would bar Mrs. Maybrick from landing.

BIG MUSCLES GAVE LIE TO CHARGE OF LARCENY

Blast Furnace Laborers, Sinewed Like Giants, Laughed at Accusation of Stealing a Machine to Make Them Strong.

Stephen Junatto and Nicholas Marron, laborers, were much alarmed yesterday when they were arrested by a constable and hustled off to jail. But they looked astonished when the officer on the way to prison told them of the charge that E. J. Dill had brought against them. Then, as the ridiculousness of the accusation dawned on them, they began to laugh, and they laughed all the way in the car from Glenwood, and were still laughing when ushered into the jail.

Deputy Warden John McNeil does not like to see prisoners display levity when brought into the jail, and he looked quite stern when he began to search the prisoners, as is customary. He passed his hand down their trouser legs, feeling for contraband articles, and the muscles of their limbs stood out like coal boat cables. McNeil looked at the warrants in his hand, and with the recollection of those muscles he could hardly believe his eyes. Then he began to smile, and when, in feeling to find if the prisoners had anything concealed under their coats, he felt arm muscles that stood out like whipcord, he began to laugh, too.

The warrant read that Junatto and Marron were charged with stealing one of those rubber exercising machines that are used by men of sedentary occupation to strengthen flabby muscles.

"Bare your arms, Steve," said Marron, and the Italian obeyed. At the same moment Marron took off coat and rolled up his shirt sleeves. The arms of the two men were as big as a leg of mutton and strong muscles played under the skin.

"Now, what do you think o' thot?" said Marron. "Here we are, two min who wheel coke to the blast furnace, and we're char-r-ged with stahlin' one of those dinky exercoisers. Do it look loike if we naded the exercoise?"

And both men walked back to their cells, laughing heartily.

"Now, if they had accused us of stahlin' a pick or a shovel, there moight have been some sinse in it," said Marron.

BIGELOW CLAIMS ALL REPUBLICANS

Declares Every One Will Vote for Traction Bills in Common Council.

SAYS SELECT IS ALSO WON

Despite the shock given the administration in select council Monday, Director Bigelow asserted yesterday there would not be more than four or five votes against the filtration bond ordinance in that body this afternoon and the administration would get enough votes to suspend the rules, if necessary, for the passage of both the bond bill and the new traction ordinances.

Bigelow took up a roll of select council from his desk and went over the names of the members, mentioning those who would be opposed to the administration today. He said that he was not counting on Douglas, Burns, Walters, Armstrong or Thomas O'Brien, but claimed that A. H. Leslie, Schempp, Schneider and others, who were against the administration on Monday, would be with it today.

"Are you sure about Leslie?" he was asked.

"Oh, yes, I know he will be all right," said Bigelow. "It will require only a majority vote to pass the bond ordinance in select council, but we can get a three-fourths vote if it is necessary to suspend the rules. We will have a three-fourths vote to suspend the rules to pass the traction ordinances, and we will pass them in common council by almost a unanimous vote," he added.

"Heimold says that he has 10 Citizens votes against the traction ordinances in common council," was remarked.

"Well, I will show you how many votes he has," Bigelow said, with a confident smile, as he turned to the roll of common council. He declared that every member except the three from the Twentieth ward would vote for the trolley bills.

"Do you mean that the Republicans will vote for the trolley traction ordinances as they stand?" Bigelow was asked.

"Of course they will. All the Republicans are for the ordinances. Everybody is for them. Why shouldn't they be? I know that Brand, Bailey, Gibbon, Barton, Bergmann, Morin, Perley and every other Republican are for the ordinances. You mark what I say and see if this does not come true," said the director.

Councilman Heimold of the Twentieth ward said yesterday that 10 Citizens members of common branch would vote to amend the ordinances. He said amendments were being prepared, the most important to require the traction company to pay the city compensation for the franchises and to limit the franchises to a certain number of years.

Both branches of councils are called for this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The principal seat of disturbance will be select council, as there is not much prospect of the traction ordinances which will be reported by the corporation committee to the upper branch getting to common council this afternoon unless Bigelow's prediction that the ordinances will be railroaded through is verified. If the administration fails to suspend the rules on the traction ordinances, they cannot go beyond one reading.

The bond ordinance is out of the hands of common council, and there will be no business for that branch to do until the traction bills reach it, except to take up unfinished business. Among the unfinished business are several measures which will probably provoke another fight today if called up. They are ordinances authorizing the employment of additional men in the filtration bureau and employes in the water bureau to install meters.

Keystone Bank Meeting Postponed.

The special meeting of the stockholders of the Keystone Bank of Pittsburgh, called for yesterday, was postponed until Tuesday, January 3. The purpose of the meeting is to decide on the proposition to make the Keystone bank a national bank. The institution has grown into an importance of the first class in Pittsburgh financial circles, although it is still a state bank.

American Officers Entertained.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 16.—United States cruisers New York and Marblehead have arrived in Esquimalt harbor and were welcomed with a salute of 21 guns. Admiral Goodrich and the officers of the American cruisers, were the guests at dinner of Commodore Gooderich of H. M. S. Grafton. The New York will leave Thursday for the Brooklyn navy yard.

BAN IS PLACED ON SPOONING

Mayor Stoy of Atlantic City Interdicts Affectionate Demonstrations in Public.

LIFE GUARDS MORAL CENSORS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 16.

Mayor Stoy has placed the ban on spooning, and to show that the authorities mean business, three arrests have already been made.

The first martyrs of the cause of Cupid were fined $15 each. Two of them were men and the third a girl. The girl spent the night in the police station because her escort's father, who paid the fine, refused to be responsible for his son's friends. The arrests were made less than two hours after the edict had gone forth, and the news spread quickly through the place. Since then outward and visible signs of affection have been few and far between in public places.

Mayor Stoy does not mean to be cruel. Far be it from him, he says, to discourage proper signs of regard between young people, but there are some signs he does not believe in. Percy may sit beside Agnes and hold her hand without putting his hat over it, but he may not indulge in a public embrace. In speaking of his ukase this morning the mayor said:

"I am determined to clean this beach so that the most captious will not find anything to offend them. It had to be done last year. I instructed the life guards to keep an eye on demonstrative couples and see that they did not go too far."

The life guards are not in sympathy with the movement. By the new regulations they are constituted censors of morality. The majority frankly confess that they are in over their depth. It is left to their judgment to decide whether a spooning couple are going too far.

This was another Pittsburghers' day at the shore, many of whom called at The Gazette office on Young's ocean pier. Among the late arrivals at the prominent hotels are the following:

Chalfonte—G. W. Crawford, Mrs. G. W. Crawford, Mrs. Alexandria.

Berkshire Inn—Mrs. H. Hahal, Master H. Hahal, Mrs. S. H. King.

ENGLAND AND MOROCCO WILL REACH AGREEMENT

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Advices from Morocco point to the conclusion that the sultan's unpleasantness with Great Britain, in connection with the confiscation of the property of a British subject and his arrest, will shortly be settled amicably. In any case the thoroughly cordial understanding between France and Great Britain suffices to prevent the incident from assuming serious proportions.

SALES OF COAL MAKE RECORDS

Production and Shipments of the Pittsburgh Company Outstrip Even Last Year.

JULY WAGES HERE $1,300,000

Despite business depression, the production and shipments of the Pittsburgh Coal Company in the past 60 days have far outstripped the record of the corresponding brisk period of last year. The company mined and shipped in July a tonnage over 12½ per cent in excess of the same month last year, when all trade was booming. This record movement has expanded the company's July expenditures for wages of its Pittsburgh employes and railroad freights to over $2,150,000, an increase of nearly 13 per cent.

Of this great sum the bulk has gone to the company's miners and employes in the Pittsburgh district, the July payroll for these amounting to about $1,300,000. Railroad freights in July were swelled to $850,000. This expenditure represents freight payments for the railroad movement of coal to the lower ports of the great lakes, which has been the avenue of outlet of production during the lake shipping season. It does not include the lake carrier freights, which add about $425,000 to the freight charges before the coal reached the upper lake docks. Heavy payrolls for the productive Hocking valley properties of the Pittsburgh Coal Company and for the employes at its chain of docks along the lower and upper lake ports are not included in the wage expenditure named.

It is pointed out that such a record could never have been made in this time of business lull with a glut of coal on the market save that in its formation and the perfection of its organization the Pittsburgh Coal Company created in large measure its own market. A great outlet has been assured to the company through its purchase at a cost of $1,000,000 of established docks on the lakes. In the instance of one such purchase, at an upper lake port, a distributing interest was secured which had over 10,000 customers on its books. Others like it provided many thousands more consumers for Pittsburgh coal that otherwise would be using the output of nearer producing territories.

While all around the collieries of the Pittsburgh Coal Company competing plants have stood idle, the company's miners have been making record wages, traffic has been created for the railroads and their earnings enhanced entirely through the aggressive business methods of the big coal concern. Under the old order of things, with the owner of each mine shifting for himself in the market, probably half of this record production would have been left in the ground.

HAY FEVER.

No one need suffer from hay fever if he will use Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm. The following testimonials are but drops from the bucketfuls of similar indorsements which come with every mail.

"The sample of your Catarrah Balm I sent for has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever used. I had hay fever for the last 25 years. Your balm relieved me at once and for the last three days one would not know that I had hay fever. I am perfectly delighted with the relief obtained from the use of only one small box of your balm."

Mrs. H. G. Redington,
North Amherst, Ohio, Sept. 14, 1903.

"I have been a sufferer from hay fever for several years, but your Catarrh Balm worked like magic in curing me. The first application gave me relief.'
